Hoover Law Enforcement Body Preparing Report

MAJOR PART OF RESEARCH WORK IS BEHIND IT

MAY REPORT BEFORE DECEMBER, BEFORE HOOVER'S ANNUAL MESSAGE

BELIEF HELD BY SOME COMMISSION MAY SUGGEST PROHIBITION MODIFICATIONS

Washington, Nov. 7.—(U.P.)—With the major part of its research work behind it, President Hoover's law enforcement commission was ready today to begin preparation of the report that it will submit soon for consideration of President Hoover and congress.

Indications are now that the commission will have its report ready for the president's consideration prior to the time early in December when he must submit to congress his annual message on the state of the nation.

Throughout all speculations concerning the commission's intentions runs a measure of belief that modification to permit manufacture of light wines and beer will be included in the commission's recommendations.

It is reported that some breweries are being questioned by representatives of the commission regarding resumption of production should the Volstead act be changed to permit it. Grain men are also said to have been queried regarding the quantity of grain that might be used in this manner.

It was learned today the commission now has no witnesses or hearings of any nature whatsoever on its calendar. This does not mean that some witnesses may not still be heard, but it indicated that most of the hearings are finished.

SAUSAGE MAKER HAS LAST LAUGH

Topeka, Kan., Nov. 8.—(U.P.)—The last laugh is on the automobile company who sold Daniel Seigler, sausage maker, a car Seigler didn't like. As a result Seigler may have both his automobile and $5,000 to boot.

Seigler, a resident of Kansas City, Kan., thought the car was "the wrath of gods," proclaimed it by a sign on the rear of the vehicle and paraded the streets.

The automobile agency had politely informed him he would be given "free service." The service resulted in a free for all pummeling of the sausage maker by indignant employees of the agency.

Today the Kansas supreme court awarded Seigler the last laugh on the agency, at the expense of Kansas City. It ruled the sausage man could collect $5,000 damages from the city for the "mobbing." The ruling was based upon the Kansas anti-mob law.

LOSES FOR CONGRESS, NOW WANTS TO GO TO ALMS HOUSE

Staunton, Va., Nov. 8.—(U.P.)—Defeated in his campaign for election to congress, Carney Kelly Rosser now is attempting to gain admittance to the Staunton alms house.

Rosser, an independent candidate in the tenth Virginia district, overwhelmingly defeated by Henry St. George Tucker, democrat, was shabbily dressed and hungry when he made the request. He was fed at the Salvation Army while authorities investigated to determine whether he was properly a ward of the county.

WAR DEPARTMENT TO RELIEVE SUFFERING AMONG UNEMPLOYED

Washington, Nov. 8.—(U.P.)—Secretary of War Hurley announced today that the war department would seek to relieve suffering among the unemployed by issuing all available army coats and blankets to the distressed people without work.

Previously the war department was unable to issue such materials because it lacked legal authority, but Hurley has personally assumed responsibility for issuing army equipment and is ready to consider all future requests for such aid.

ROOMING HOUSE FIGHT ENDS IN FATAL STABBING

Kansas City, Mo., Nov. 8.—(U.P.)—When Joe Kovick, 40, a roomer, struck her with a bottle capper, Mrs. Rose Rusick countered with a butcher knife, killing Kovick here last night. Mrs. Rusick, mother of Mike Rusick, gangster slain in St. Paul last summer, was arrested.

Sets New Record from Baltimore to Capital

Pilot C. C. Taliaferro set a new flying record from Baltimore to Washington when he flew the 35 miles in 9 minutes. He used the Eastern Air Express shuttle plane, which, although it was loaded with mail, achieved a speed of 233.1 miles per hour.

DEMOCRATIC LEADERS MAY ASK FOR A RECOUNT

ONLY A FEW NORTHERN COUNTIES WHICH GAVE SCHALL LARGE LEAD TO BE TALLIED

CHALLENGING PARTY WILL HAVE TO PAY COSTS, SAID STATE OFFICIALS

St. Paul, Nov. 8.—(U.P.)—Only a few northern Minnesota counties which gave Senator Thomas D. Schall a large margin of his lead of approximately 8,000 votes will be asked by democratic leaders if they decide on a recount, it was said today.

State officials said the challenging party would have to pay the cost of the recount and estimated that for the entire state the figure would amount to $25,000. In view of these facts, representatives of Einar Hoidal, democrat who lost to Schall, said they would only pick out a few counties if they decided on the recount.

Hubert D'Auremont, Duluth, chairman of the democratic state central committee, was expected to return to the Twin Cities today to confer with Hoidal and others. They are said to be considering the possibilities of a recount, a contest of the election in court and action to prevent Schall's seating for violation of the corrupt practice law or the franking privilege. The state canvassing board will meet Nov. 18 to determine the official election returns. The democrats have expressed the opinion that their decision may not be announced before that date.

William Green, Labor Head, Congratulates Sen. Schall

Minneapolis, Nov. 8.—(U.P.)—William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, has wired Senator Thomas D. Schall congratulating him on his re-election to the senate.

"I felt sure," Green said, "that belated returns from outlying sections in Minnesota would show that you have been decisively re-elected to the United States senate. I extend to you hearty congratulations and personal well wishes."

GRAUCHO MARX IS OPERATED ON

Chicago, Nov. 7.—(U.P.)—Graucho Marx, one of the four Marx brothers, was reported resting comfortably today after an operation for appendicitis at Michael Reese hospital today. His condition, attendants said, was good and unless unusual complications set in he will recover.

The Marx brothers were scheduled to open a vaudeville engagement at the Palace theatre today.

23 MEMBERS OF STORM TOSSED SHIP SAVED NEAR BIARRITZ

Biarritz, France, Nov. 8.—(U.P.)—Twenty-three members of the crew of the Italian steamer Santa Riza, from Tunis, were saved today after storms had forced the ship upon the French coast.

Reports from other points along the coast indicated that numerous ships were being buffeted severely by storms.

BAD WEATHER REPORTS DELAY DORNIER DO-X

FLIGHT FROM HOLLAND TO ENGLAND, PROPOSED TODAY, POSTPONED

STRAITS OF DOVER A PARTICULARLY DANGEROUS STORM CENTER

Amsterdam, Nov. 8.—(U.P.)—Unfavorable weather reports caused postponement of the flight of the Dornier flying boat DO-X from Holland to England today.

Capt. Christiansen said that storms were expected which might delay the continuation of the flight until Monday or Tuesday.

Early weather reports from England, on the brink of the November fog period which usually covers London and the southern part of the British Isles with an impenetrable blanket, were not favorable.

The route of the world's largest heavier-than-air plane called for flight from the lowlands of Holland through the Straits of Dover and along the English channel to Calshot, in Southampton water. The area likely will be extremely dangerous for both sea and air traffic if England's customary November weather develops.

The start of the journey to Calshot originally had been set tentatively for 10 a. m. today. It was understood that officials of the Dornier works considered the possibility of proceeding direct to Havre, without touching England, if weather on the English side of the channel continued unfavorable.

AZTEC PROCEEDING TO ASSISTANCE OF SCHOONER IN DISTRESS

New York, Nov. 8.—(U.P.)—The Radio Marine corporation said today it had intercepted a message from the Charleston, S. C., coast guard station saying that the S. S. Aztec of the United Fruit line was proceeding to the assistance of a four masted schooner in distress off Cape Canaveral, Fla.

The S. S. Upshur sent out an SOS on behalf of the schooner at 4:30 a. m., which was received at the Charleston navy station and coast guard headquarters. Investigation showed the Aztec was only 46 miles from the disabled vessel and it was asked to render assistance.

The message did not indicate how many persons were aboard the schooner or what kind of difficulty the ship had encountered.

KING OF SIAM TO VISIT IN AMERICA

New York, Nov. 8.—(U.P.)—Praja Dhipok, king of Siam, will reside at the Westchester county residence of Mrs. Whitelaw Reid when he arrives in this country for a two-months' stay. The king is coming to this country to have his eyes treated.

HARD JOB TO FIND MAN OR RELATIVE NEVER HELD UP

Chicago, Nov. 8.—(U.P.)—It's a hard job in this city of over 3,000,000 persons to find 12 who never have been held up and have no relatives or friends who have been held up, attorneys discovered today in Judge Joseph Sabath's court, where Frank H. Bell and Richard Sullivan were on trial for murder.

The defendants were charged with holding up Christ Patras, a restaurant owner, and killing him. Their attorneys contended that anyone who ever had been held up or whose relative or friend had been held up might be prejudiced and would not make a competent juror.

Man after man stepped into the jury box, was asked if he, a relative or a friend ever had been the victim of a holdup man. The parade had continued for two days when court adjourned last evening and only four of the 12 jurors had been obtained.

As it was resumed today, Assistant State's Attorney Ross Lee Laird remarked that it "might take a long time to get the other eight."

WORST STUDENT RIOT IN PITTSBURGH IS BROKEN UP

CARNEGIE TECH STUDENTS, AMBUSHED IN DORMITORIES, HURL MILK BOTTLES

SHOOT BOILING WATER AND FIRECRACKERS INTO POLICEMEN'S RANKS

Pittsburgh, Nov. 8.—(U.P.)—What was described as the worst student riot in the city's history was broken up by police today after Carnegie Tech students, ambushed in their dormitories, hurled milk bottles, boiling water and fire crackers into the policemen's ranks, resulting in injuries to a policeman and two firemen.

With a blazing automobile, which had been soaked with oil, as a flare, students hurled various missiles at the police before the latter dragged 39 students from their dormitories and lodged them in Oakland police station.

It was the second student riot preceding the annual Pitt-Carnegie Tech football game today. Yesterday, police arrested 37 Pitt students after futile attempts to stop them from marching on the downtown district in connection with the annual parade and "pep meeting" for the Tech game. All 76 students were to be arraigned on disorderly conduct charges in court today.

Several hours after the Tech riot, the district near the Carnegie campus, bore evidence of the battle. Two automobiles had been burned. Broken bottles and exploded "thunderbolts" covered the ground.

COMMISSION NOW MEETING AT GENEVA

LIMITATION OF TRAINED RESERVES UNDER CONSIDERATION

RUSSIAN CLASHES WITH POLISH PROPOSAL LIMITING MILITARY SERVICE

By SAMUEL DASHIELL (United Press Staff Correspondent)

Geneva, Nov. 8.—Maxim M. Litvinoff, chief of the Soviet delegation to the preparatory disarmament commission, renewed his sarcastic attacks on the failure of world powers to disarm when the commission took up limitation of trained reserves today.

Immediately after an amendment limiting the annual military contingent of each conscript country had been proposed by Germany and defeated, Litvinoff clashed with a member of the Polish delegation on the Polish proposal that each country fix a limited term of military service with an unlimited number of conscripts annually.

The cynical attitude of the Soviet delegate and the open hostility between him and the Polish delegation created strong tension at the session. "The proposal is innocent and ineffectual and therefore dangerous," said Litvinoff. "By permitting a greater number of conscripts at short military service it means a greater number of trained reserves."

He turned to John Loudon, president, who rebuked the Soviet delegate at this opening session. "Excuse me for mentioning the world disarmament," said Litvinoff, "because I believe the world is ruled out of these discussions. But I believe from today's speeches on conscription we are hardly entitled to expect any real reduction of armaments. The public ought to be under no illusions. There should be no camouflage as to the shortcomings of the commission. Therefore, I consider the Polish conscript proposal harmless."

The amendment moved by Count Bernstorff of Germany limiting the annual military contingent of each conscript country, thereby limiting the eventual number of trained reserves, was rejected by the commission by a vote of 12 to 6 today.

France, Japan, Roumania, Yugoslavia, Poland, Belgium, Czechoslovakia and Greece were among the nations opposing the motion. It was supported by the Soviet delegation, England and the United States abstained from voting.

Count Bernstorff proposed the amendment during a discussion of the suggestions of Germany, England and Poland regarding curtailment of military service in conscript and professional armies.

St. Paul, Nov. 8.—(U.P.)—Death of Violet Nepstad, 23, in Ancker hospital today brought St. Paul deaths to 53 for the year and nine for the week. Miss Nepstad suffered a fractured skull and internal injuries in an accident Wednesday.

She'll Reign as Queen Over Winter Carnival

WEARY CREW IN BATTLE WITH SEA TO SAVE SHIP

45 MEN REFUSE TO ABANDON RICHFIELD TANKER TAMIAHUA

LATTER BEING POUNDED TO PIECES IN GRIP OF PESCADERO REEF

Pescadero, Calif., Nov. 8.—(U.P.)—A weary crew of 45 men, exhausted by many hours of grueling labor in the face of stinging spray and icy gale, this morning refused to abandon the Richfield tanker Tamiahua, being pounded to pieces in the grip of Pescadero reef.

A fresh attempt to free the tanker was started shortly after midnight when the tide was at its fullest. Despite the fact that the vessel had been in distress for more than 26 hours and had resisted all efforts to save it from its precarious position, sailors messaged ashore they would stay aboard until all hope had vanished.

Although tugs and coast guard cutters dispatched to the scene succeeded time after time in getting a line aboard the Tamiahua, their efforts were frustrated by the heavy swells that shook it free again.

New hope was aroused when word was received that the powerful salvage steamer Poncock was speeding under full steam from San Pedro to the rescue. Much heavier and stronger than the boats standing by now, it was believed that it might succeed where others have failed, and swing the reef-bound vessel free.

DAUGHTER BORN TO MAHARANEE

BIRTH CELEBRATED IN HINDU FASHION, INDIAN PRIESTS PRAY 40 HOURS

Paris, Nov. 8.—(U.P.)—A daughter was born to the Maharanee Sharmistataba Holkar, the former Nancy Ann Miller of Seattle, at her chateau near St. Germain yesterday, it was learned today.

The birth was celebrated in Hindu fashion and Indian priests prayed continuously for 40 hours. Indian birth rites were observed, including that of the coconut consecration.

There was no attempt on the part of the household to hide disappointment over the fact that the second child born to the Maharaja of Indore and his American wife also was a girl. The first daughter, Princess Sharda Rajee Holkar, was born Jan. 26, 1929.

The second child has not been named.

The mother and the grandmother of the maharane were present. Gifts of gold and pearls have already begun to arrive from prominent Hindus, many of whom are in London for the Indian round table conference.

The maharane arrived from India some time ago to await the birth of her second child. She was accompanied by her husband and an elaborate suite.

San Bernardino, Nov. 8.—(U.P.)—Dorothy Lee, film comedienne, and James Marion Fidler, press agent, were on their honeymoon today at Lake Arrowhead.

TWO FACTIONS EVENLY DIVIDED IN 72ND CONGRESS

WESTERN REPUBLICANS, FARMER-LABORITES HOLDING DECIDING VOTES

SITUATION IN BOTH SENATE AND HOUSE REGARDED SIMILAR

By NATHAN ROBERTSON (United Press Staff Correspondent)

Washington, Nov. 8.—An almost exact numerical division between republicans and democrats, with western independent republicans and farmer-laborites holding the deciding votes in both the senate and the house of representatives, appeared today as a possible lineup for the 72nd congress.

Democrats anticipate a preponderance of power for their party. In a statement last night from seven of their highest leaders, they assured the nation their policy would be one of constructive service. No general revision of the tariff will be attempted, they said.

President Hoover, in a remark at his press conference yesterday accepted as an answer to inquiries about the election, said:

"The job for the country to concentrate on now is further measures of co-operation for economic recovery."

Assembling of the newly elected congress is more than a year in the future. With rechecks, resignations and deaths likely to change the situation, it is impossible to foretell the exact distribution of power which will result from one of the closest elections in American history.

Unofficial figures showed: House—republicans, 217; democrats, 217; farmer-labor, 1. Senate—republicans 48; democrats, 47; farmer-labor, 1.

Among the many districts where recounts may be demanded are the 8th Indiana district, which Albert H. Vestal won by less than ten votes and the 24th Illinois district which is claimed for Claude V. Parsons, democrat. The republican contestant, Jas. V. Heidinger, contends that one count shows he was elected.

While the republicans have a paper margin of one vote in the senate, the announcement of Senator Smith W. Brookhart, republican, Iowa, that he might vote with the democrats to organize the body, indicated a session wherein the minority actually would be in power.

The situation is so close that a single recount, resignation or death may change the whole complexion of results in either house.

The farmer-laborites are Senator Henrik Shipstead and Rep. Paul Kvale, both from Minnesota. Shipstead votes with independent republicans or the independent republican-democratic coalition. Kvale says he does not intend to vote on a party basis. He frequently has voted on the democratic side.

Brookhart proposes that the democrats should take control of the situation and demand the resignations of Secretary of Treasury Mellon and the under-secretary, Ogden Mills. The senator said the vote Tuesday was a protest against "Mellonism" and that his regime should be ended.

After Brookhart had made his announcement other western republicans were looked to for a statement of their intentions. Senator Gerald Nye, North Dakota, said he would vote with the republicans for organization. Others of the group were absent from Washington.

The democratic statement, issued through the democratic national committee here, was signed by Chairman John J. Raskob of the committee; James M. Cox of Ohio, 1920 presidential candidate; John W. Davis of West Virginia, 1924 nominee; Alfred E. Smith of New York, candidate for the presidency in 1928; Joseph T. Robinson of Arkansas, senate leader; John N. Gardner of Texas, house leader, and Chairman Joutett Shouse of the executive committee.

"A remarkable victory has come to the democratic party," said the statement. "We, however, regard it less as a political triumph than as a great opportunity for constructive service."

"For a year and a half the democrats have conducted as vigorous a campaign as they could, not to destroy the downfall of any political figure, but to resist and to correct a situation that had become well nigh intolerable. The minority in the senate and the house of representatives fought bravely and sincerely to prevent the enactment of a tariff bill which was not only the apotheosis of bad economy but was doubly dangerous because of the conditions in the country. Certainly with the nation in the throes of a ghastly business depression it was no time to place a greater burden upon consumers and an additional handicap on business."

"Despite the opposition of the democrats and the progressive wing of the republican party and over the protests of leading economists of the nation, the bill was forced on the country by the brutal strength of numbers and was signed by the president."

"The democratic policy, announced in its platform and through its candidates in the last presidential campaign (Continued on Page 8, Column 4)

BAD WEATHER REPORTS DELAY DORNIER DO-X

FLIGHT FROM HOLLAND TO ENGLAND, PROPOSED TODAY, POSTPONED

STRAITS OF DOVER A PARTICULARLY DANGEROUS STORM CENTER

Amsterdam, Nov. 8.—(U.P.)—Unfavorable weather reports caused postponement of the flight of the Dornier flying boat DO-X from Holland to England today.

Capt. Christiansen said that storms were expected which might delay the continuation of the flight until Monday or Tuesday.

Early weather reports from England, on the brink of the November fog period which usually covers London and the southern part of the British Isles with an impenetrable blanket, were not favorable.

The route of the world's largest heavier-than-air plane called for flight from the lowlands of Holland through the Straits of Dover and along the English channel to Calshot, in Southampton water. The area likely will be extremely dangerous for both sea and air traffic if England's customary November weather develops.

WORST STUDENT RIOT IN PITTSBURGH IS BROKEN UP

CARNEGIE TECH STUDENTS, AMBUSHED IN DORMITORIES, HURL MILK BOTTLES

SHOOT BOILING WATER AND FIRECRACKERS INTO POLICEMEN'S RANKS

Pittsburgh, Nov. 8.—(U.P.)—What was described as the worst student riot in the city's history, was broken up by police today after Carnegie Tech students, ambushed in their dormitories, hurled milk bottles, boiling water and fire crackers into the policemen's ranks, resulting in injuries to a policeman and two firemen.

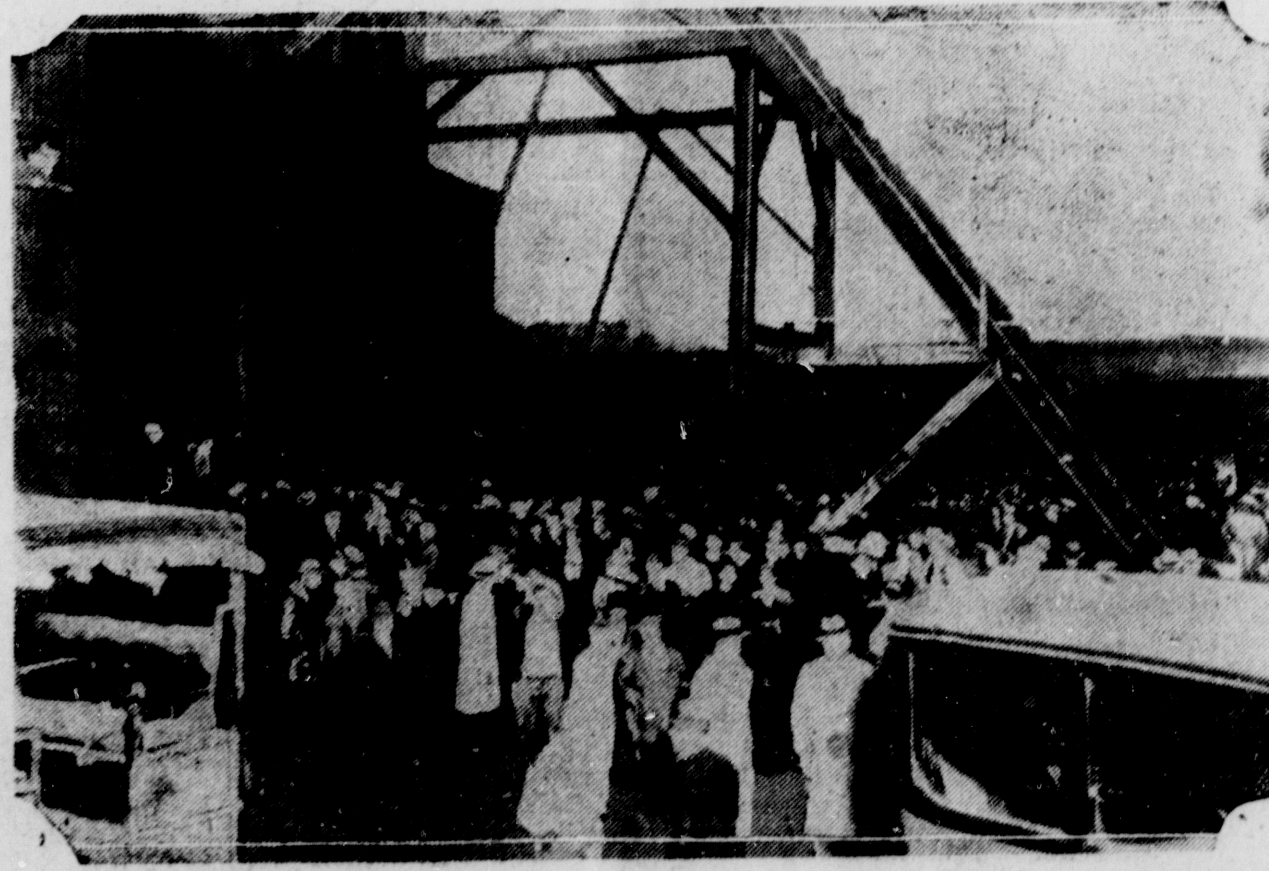

With a blazing automobile, which had been soaked with oil, as a flare, students hurled various missiles at the police before the latter dragged 39 students from their dormitories and lodged them in Oakland police station.

It was the second student riot preceding the annual Pitt-Carnegie Tech football game today. Yesterday, police arrested 37 Pitt students after futile attempts to stop them from marching on the downtown district in connection with the annual parade and "pep meeting" for the Tech game.

All 76 students were to be arraigned on disorderly conduct charges in court today.

Several hours after the Tech riot, the district near the Carnegie campus, bore evidence of the battle. Two automobiles had been burned. Broken bottles and exploded "thunderbolts" covered the ground.

COMMISSION NOW MEETING AT GENEVA

LIMITATION OF TRAINED RESERVES UNDER CONSIDERATION

RUSSIAN CLASHES WITH POLISH PROPOSAL LIMITING MILITARY SERVICE

By SAMUEL DASHIELL (United Press Staff Correspondent)

Geneva, Nov. 8.—Maxim M. Litvinoff, chief of the Soviet delegation to the preparatory disarmament commission, renewed his sarcastic attacks on the failure of world powers to disarm when the commission took up limitation of trained reserves today.

Immediately after an amendment limiting the annual military contingent of each conscript country had been proposed by Germany and defeated, Litvinoff clashed with a member of the Polish delegation on the Polish proposal that each country fix a limited term of military service with an unlimited number of conscripts annually.

The cynical attitude of the Soviet delegate and the open hostility between him and the Polish delegation created strong tension at the session. "The proposal is innocent and ineffectual and therefore dangerous," said Litvinoff. "By permitting a greater number of conscripts at short military service it means a greater number of trained reserves."

He turned to John Loudon, president, who rebuked the Soviet delegate at this opening session.

"Excuse me for mentioning the world disarmament," said Litvinoff, "because I believe the world is ruled out of these discussions. But I believe from today's speeches on conscription we are hardly entitled to expect any real reduction of armaments. The public ought to be under no illusions. There should be no camouflage as to the shortcomings of the commission. Therefore, I consider the Polish conscript proposal harmless."

The amendment moved by Count Bernstorff of Germany limiting the annual military contingent of each conscript country, thereby limiting the eventual number of trained reserves, was rejected by the commission by a vote of 12 to 6 today.

France, Japan, Roumania, Yugoslavia, Poland, Belgium, Czechoslovakia and Greece were among the nations opposing the motion. It was supported by the Soviet delegation, England and the United States abstained from voting.

Count Bernstorff proposed the amendment during a discussion of the suggestions of Germany, England and Poland regarding curtailment of military service in conscript and professional armies.

WEARY CREW IN BATTLE WITH SEA TO SAVE SHIP

45 MEN REFUSE TO ABANDON RICHFIELD TANKER TAMIAHUA

LATTER BEING POUNDED TO PIECES IN GRIP OF PESCADERO REEF

Pescadero, Calif., Nov. 8.—(U.P.)—A weary crew of 45 men, exhausted by many hours of grueling labor in the face of stinging spray and icy gale, this morning refused to abandon the Richfield tanker Tamiahua, being pounded to pieces in the grip of Pescadero reef.

A fresh attempt to free the tanker was started shortly after midnight when the tide was at its fullest. Despite the fact that the vessel had been in distress for more than 26 hours and had resisted all efforts to save it from its precarious position, sailors messaged ashore they would stay aboard until all hope had vanished.

Although tugs and coast guard cutters dispatched to the scene succeeded time after time in getting a line aboard the Tamiahua, their efforts were frustrated by the heavy swells that shook it free again.

New hope was aroused when word was received that the powerful salvage steamer Peacock was speeding under full steam from San Pedro to the rescue. Much heavier and stronger than the boats standing by now, it was believed that it might succeed where others have failed, and swing the reef-bound vessel free.

DAUGHTER BORN TO MAHARANEE

BIRTH CELEBRATED IN HINDU FASHION, INDIAN PRIESTS PRAY 40 HOURS

Paris, Nov. 8.—(U.P.)—A daughter was born to the Maharanee Sharmistataba Holkar, the former Nancy Ann Miller of Seattle, at her chateau near St. Germain yesterday, it was learned today.

The birth was celebrated in Hindu fashion and Indian priests prayed continuously for 40 hours. Indian birth rites were observed, including that of the coconut consecration.

There was no attempt on the part of the household to hide disappointment over the fact that the second child born to the Maharaja of Indore and his American wife also was a girl. The first daughter, Princess Sharda Raje Holka, was born Jan. 26, 1929.

The second child has not been named.

The mother and the grandmother of the maharane were present. Gifts of gold and pearls have already begun to arrive from prominent Hindus, many of whom are in London for the Indian round table conference.

The maharane arrived from India some time ago to await the birth of her second child. She was accompanied by her husband and an elaborate suite.

San Bernardino, Nov. 8.—(U.P.)—Dorothy Lee, film comedienne, and James Marion Fidler, press agent, were on their honeymoon today at Lake Arrowhead.

TWO FACTIONS EVENLY DIVIDED IN 72ND CONGRESS

WESTERN REPUBLICANS, FARMER-LABORITES HOLDING DECIDING VOTES

SITUATION IN BOTH SENATE AND HOUSE REGARDED SIMILAR

By NATHAN ROBERTSON (United Press Staff Correspondent)

Washington, Nov. 8.—An almost exact numerical division between republicans and democrats, with western independent republicans and farmer-laborites holding the deciding votes in both the senate and the house of representatives, appeared today as a possible lineup for the 72nd congress.

Democrats anticipate a preponderance of power for their party. In a statement last night from seven of their highest leaders, they assured the nation their policy would be one of constructive service. No general revision of the tariff will be attempted, they said.

President Hoover, in a remark at his press conference yesterday accepted as an answer to inquiries about the election, said:

"The job for the country to concentrate on now is further measures of co-operation for economic recovery." Assembling of the newly elected congress is more than a year in the future. With rechecks, resignations and deaths likely to change the situation, it is impossible to foretell the exact distribution of power which will result from one of the closest elections in American history.

Unofficial figures showed:

House—republicans, 217; democrats, 217; farmer-labor, 1.

Senate—republicans 48; democrats, 47; farmer-labor, 1.

Among the many districts where recounts may be demanded are the 8th Indiana district, which Albert H. Vestal won by less than ten votes and the 24th Illinois district, which is claimed for Claude V. Parsons, democrat. The republican contestant, Jas. V. Heidering, contends that one count shows he was elected.

While the republicans have a paper margin of one vote in the senate, the announcement of Senator Smith W. Brookhart, republican, Iowa, that he might vote with the democrats to organize the body, indicated a session wherein the minority actually would be in power.

The situation is so close that a single recount, resignation or death may change the whole complexion of results in either house.

The farmer-laborites are Senator Henrik Shipstead and Rep. Paul Kvale, both from Minnesota. Shipstead votes with independent republicans or the independent republican-democratic coalition. Kvale says he does not intend to vote on a party basis. He frequently has voted on the democratic side.

Brookhart proposes that the democrats should take control of the situation and demand the resignations of Secretary of Treasury Mellon and the under-secretary, Ogden Mills. The senator said the vote Tuesday was a protest against "Mellonism" and that his regime should be ended.

After Brookhart had made his announcement other western republicans were looked to for a statement of their intentions. Senator Gerald Nye, North Dakota, said he would vote with the republicans for organization. Others of the group were absent from Washington.

The democratic statement, issued through the democratic national committee here, was signed by Chairman John J. Raskob of the committee; James M. Cox of Ohio, 1920 presidential candidate; John W. Davis of West Virginia, 1924 nominee; Alfred E. Smith of New York, candidate for the presidency in 1928; Joseph T. Robinson of Arkansas, senate leader; John N. Gardner of Texas, house leader, and Chairman Jovett Shouse of the executive committee.

"A remarkable victory has come to the democratic party," said the statement. "We, however, regard it less as a political triumph than as a great opportunity for constructive service."

"For a year and a half the democrats have conducted as vigorous a campaign as they could, not to destroy the administration, not to accomplish the downfall of any political figure, but to resist and to correct a situation that had become well nigh intolerable. The minority in the senate and the house of representatives fought bravely and sincerely to prevent the enactment of a tariff bill which was not only the anathema of bad economy but was doubly dangerous because of the conditions in the country. Certainly with the nation in the throes of a ghastly business depression it was no time to place a greater burden upon consumers and an additional handicap on business."

"Despite the opposition of the democrats and the progressive wing of the republican party and over the protests of leading economists of the nation, the bill was forced on the country by the brutal strength of numbers and was signed by the president."

"The democratic policy, announced in its platform and through its candidates in the last presidential campaign (Continued on Page 8, Column 4)"

SCOUT BROADCASTER

By J. M. SCHMITT
Field Scout Executive

Q. What is a Good Turn?

A. A Good Turn is a volunteered kind act or good deed. Boys are encouraged to watch for things that need to be done, and then do them without being asked. Performing the regular routine duties about the home is not a Good Turn. The Good Turn is a bigger, finer thing—the Good Turn is really a philosophy of living, of which service to others becomes the key.

Q. What is a Tenderfoot Scout?

A. A Tenderfoot Scout is one who has passed the required tests and registered with the National Council Boy Scouts of America. Some of these tests are: he must know nine different knots, the History of the American Flag, the Scout Oath and Law, etc. He must do a Good Turn daily.

Q. What is the age limit of Scouts?

A. A boy must be at least 12 years of age in order to become a Scout. Otherwise there is no age limitation.

Q. How many boys are required for a troop?

A. A full troop consists of four patrols of eight boys each. A troop can be chartered with eight boys but this should be built into a full troop as soon as possible.

Anyone who wishes to have questions in regard to Scouting answered in this column may send them to J. M. Schmitt at the Brainerd Court House.

My Aim as a Scout

To live as gently as I can,
To be, no matter where I am, a man,
To take what comes, of good or ill,
And cling to faith and honor still.
To do my best, and let that stand,
The record of my brain and hand.
And then if failure comes to me,
Still work, and hope for victory.

To have no secret place wherein I stoop unseen to shame or sin.
To be the same when I'm alone
As when my every deed is known.
To walk undaunted, unafraid
Of any step that I have made.
To be, without pretense or sham,
Exactly what men think I am.

SCOUT BROADCASTER

By J. M. SCHMITT
Field Scout Executive

Q. What is a Good Turn?

A. A Good Turn is a volunteered kind act or good deed. Boys are encouraged to watch for things that need to be done, and then do them without being asked. Performing the regular routine duties about the home is not a Good Turn. The Good Turn is a bigger, finer thing—the Good Turn is really a philosophy of living, of which service to others becomes the key.

Q. What is a Tenderfoot Scout?

A. A Tenderfoot Scout is one who has passed the required tests and registered with the National Council Boy Scouts of America. Some of these tests are: he must know nine different knots, the History of the American Flag, the Scout Oath and Law, etc. He must do a Good Turn daily.

Q. What is the age limit of Scouts?

A. A boy must be at least 12 years of age in order to become a Scout. Otherwise there is no age limitation.

Q. How many boys are required for a troop? A. What is the least number of boys in a troop?
A. a. A full troop consists of four patrols of eight boys each. b. A troop can be chartered with eight boys but this should be built into a full troop as soon as possible.

Anyone who wishes to have questions in regard to Scouting answered in this column may send them to J. M. Schmitt at the Brainerd Court House.

My Aim as a Scout

To live as gently as I can.
To be, no matter where I am, a man.
To take what comes, of good or ill,
And cling to faith and honor still.
To do my best, and let that stand,
The record of my brain and hand.
And then if failure comes to me,
Still work, and hope for victory.

To have no secret place wherein I stoop unseen to shame or sin.
To be the same when I'm alone
As when my every deed is known.
To walk undaunted, unafraid
Of any step that I have made.
To be, without pretense or sham,
Exactly what men think I am.

Bus Sideswipes Mine Truck, Woman Killed, Score Hurt

Hopkinsville, Ky., Nov. 8.—(U.P.)—An unidentified woman was killed, four men were injured probably fatally and a score of other persons were hurt near here last night when a C. C. C. bus sideswiped a mine truck loaded with 40 miners.

Wallace Kinley, 30, driver of the bus, suffered a fractured skull and is not expected to recover. The body of the woman is being held at Crofton, pending identification.

Elections in Germany

Article 22 of the constitution of the German republic states that all national elections must be held on Sundays or public holidays. This provision enables the largest number of voters to take part in the elections and causes the least interruption of business. This practice is not new. National elections in Germany were held on Sundays and holidays under the imperial regime.

Elusive Personality

PERSONALITY is an elusive quality and hard to photograph or definitely record, but nevertheless students of two University of Minnesota schools this term have been participating in a "personality contest."

Special report cards kept by professors in physics and agriculture rate the students on, among other things, neatness, breeding, mentality, culture, grammar and the like.

The students were to know nothing about the report card which is to be kept by each instructor in the two schools and filed as a permanent record in his department.

Though officials have denied such a personality report exists one of the cards was discovered by a student. The following are the points on which students are rated:

Physical characteristics—appearance, health, neatness, etc.
Manners—evidence of breeding. Evidences of cultured home environment. Evidence of mental powers, breadth of interest, alertness.

Powers of expression, use of English.
Attitude—earnest, indifferent, flippant, etc.
Evidences of constructive ability—ability to build things, etc.
Evidences of analytical ability.
Evidences of creative ability.

It was said the cards were to be kept for use in recommendations to possible future employers or members of the classes.

Sure Cure for Depression is Advertising

ROGER W. BABSON, the great business statistician, has settled upon a remedy for the present business depression. His prescription is a sure cure, he says, as quoted from his article in Collier's Weekly.

Diagnosing the reason for the crash as over-production, he points out that this condition will be corrected as soon as mass consumption can be stimulated to catch up with mass production.

The necessary stimulant—the infallible cure, he says, is advertising—on a larger scale than the world has ever known. "This is the way out from the present situation. It is our hope of making mass production our economic salvation instead of the dynamite that may wreck the world."

"As one who has studied business depression in life rather than in libraries, I see in current conditions the call for advertising. There's nothing wrong with the patient but poor circulation. Money is being held instead of circulated."

"Advertising is ideally fitted and competent to accelerate the circulation. It is the most effective known force for accomplishing the speeding up of money and thereby giving us more business at times when more business is the nation's greatest need."

"There never was more money than there is today. Banks hold it, corporations hold it, the people hold it. That is the trouble, the money is held instead of circulated. A beautiful system of piping, a plentiful supply of fluid, but the whole mechanism fails to function for want of the pumping power of publicity to tell the world of better goods, lower prices and greater service. We need a sound plan to reduce the choppy action of business and promote smoothness and steadiness of growth."

"Advertising is this sorely needed governor of business. It requires no novel mechanism. All the apparatus is available. Though capable of illimitable improvement, the fundamental principles of advertising are clearly established; its practice is a well-known art."

"The basic cause at which the jobless should shake their fists is not that too few mills are running, but that too few advertising campaigns are running."

"One proposed plan for reforming bad times is to increase public works. That policy is wise. The need, however, is not merely for works but for workers—and the way to make people work is to arouse wholesome desires through worthy advertising."

"Another proposal is to slash prices to make a national bargain day. Advertising, however, should make every day a bargain day, through quantity prices resulting from the merger of mass production and mass consumption."

"Mass production of goods requires mass production of customers, and that is possible only through advertising. To some people the apparent simplicity of this solution will be a disappointment. It may be disheartening to hear that the best which can be proposed is nothing more than our familiar old friends, honest goods at fair prices and advertising."

"Mr. Watt, however, when he set in motion the industrial revolution, did it by studying a force more commonplace than advertising—the steam from his mother's kettle. Similarly our own times can develop the latent power of advertising into a prime mover in economics. In the light of what it might accomplish, advertising power today is what steam power was in 1770."

"Mere money is not the cause of the wave-like heaving of the charted course of business over a long stretch of time. As a power in business, the vital thing about money is not its amount but its rapidity of circulation. Theoretically a million-dollar business might be transacted by a single dollar bill if it changed hands with sufficient rapidity. Just as we refer to the speed of an engine by saying that it makes so many revolutions per minute, we can describe the rapidity of circulation of money by saying that it turns over twelve times a year."

"When that rapidity is increased and money circulates faster, business picks up and becomes better. As the circulation of money slows down, business falls off. Some superhuman hand on the throttle, speeding up or cutting down circulation, could make or unmake prosperity. Why cry for a superhuman hand, when we have it already available in advertising?"

"By advertising I do not refer to cheerio copy proclaiming a non-existent prosperity, but advertising to sell existing products. Each business man can best promote national welfare by building up the business he knows best—his own."

"Not from any high-flown altruism but with their own skins at stake the public ought to give their most effective support to advertising, by patronage of the best advertisers. For advertising pays only as it pays the public. A consuming public that would not back up a program along these lines would be devoid both of social responsibility and intelligent self-interest. It has not been my experience that the American consumer is deficient on either score."

"Of course the country will eventually revive, as it has in the past. Let us not overlook, however, the new element in our latest depression, namely, the grief that attends mass production without mass consumption. Here is a novel factor that may prove of major importance. It may well temper any easy assumption that we shall pull through if we trust to luck. I prefer to trust to advertising."

COACH DAVE MCMILLAN of the University of Minnesota, while refusing to make any predictions as to the possible showing of his basketball squad in the conference race, is known to have high hopes that Minnesota will this year become a real title contender for the first time in nearly 10 years. McMillan's men last year showed up fairly strong and this year he has a lot of new material of good calibre.

White House Conference Statistics Show Increase in Life Expectations; Drop in Infant Deaths

Washington, D. C.—The boy baby whose economic value at birth has been estimated by statisticians as $9,833 in a family with an income of $2,500 a year may logically expect to have ten years more of living than the 1910 baby.

This is revealed by figures presented by experts of the White House Conference on Child Health and Protection which will meet in Washington November 19-22.

Further encouraging statistics supplied by the experts reveal that in 1929 the infant mortality rate dropped to 66.2 deaths among each 1,000 births, the second lowest ever recorded in the United States.

President Hoover's purpose in calling the White House Conference on Child Health and Protection, according to Dr. Ray Lyman Wilbur, Secretary of the Interior and chairman of the Conference, is to find out exactly what conditions of child education, health and mental well-being prevail and what further steps ought to be taken.

"The United States Public Health Service has recently stated that in these enlightened days, no child need die of smallpox or diphtheria," the Secretary recalls, "also that it is possible to guard against typhoid by sanitary control of water and milk supplies; that children bitten by mad dogs may be saved by the Pasteur treatment."

"All this is splendid but as yet not every community knows how to make use of the precautions that are available and much still remains to be done in the way of research and investigation."

"In the findings of the Conference there will be given to the people of the United States the answer of the scientific world to President Hoover's challenge that it should produce some formula which will enable all those who care for children to mold the boys and girls of today into the stalwarts to whom we may safely entrust our hopes of the future."

"It's the little things that tell"

That's what big sister said to her boy friend as she pulled little brother out from under the sofa. But wait till big sister and the boy friend are man and wife, with a home of their own to run. Then how much more she'll realize the truth of her observation!

For then the age old problems will come pressing hard. So much in the pocketbook. So much on the shopping list. Will it fit? Then's when the little things make the big difference. The little savings—the small economies—the slightly better values of which a good housekeeper takes advantage.

Then's when big sister will read the advertisements as she never read them before. Comparing values; learning reliable brands; watching the bargain and reduction announcements. . . . The advertisements will help her in a thousand ways to take care of the little things, acquire the little short-cuts in time and effort—in the big job of running a home.

Read the advertisements every day. Consistently advertised goods are worthy of your confidence . . .
otherwise they couldn't be consistently advertised

White House Conference Statistics Show Increase in Life Expectations; Drop in Infant Deaths

Washington, D. C.—The boy baby whose economic value at birth has been estimated by statisticians as $9,333 in a family with an income of $2,500 a year may logically expect to have ten years more of living than the 1910 baby.

This is revealed by figures presented by experts of the White House Conference on Child Health and Protection which will meet in Washington November 19-22.

Further encouraging statistics supplied by the experts reveal that in 1929 the infant mortality rate dropped to 66.2 deaths among each 1,000 births, the second lowest ever recorded in the United States. President Hoover's purpose in calling the White House Conference on Child Health and Protection, according to Dr. Ray Lyman Wilbur, Secretary of the Interior and chairman of the Conference, is to find out exactly what conditions of child education, health and mental well-being prevail and what further steps ought to be taken.

"The United States Public Health Service has recently stated that in these enlightened days, no child need die of smallpox or diphtheria," the Secretary recalls, "also that it is possible to guard against typhoid by sanitary control of water and milk supplies; that children bitten by mad dogs may be saved by the Pasteur treatment."

"All this is splendid but as yet not every community knows how to make use of the precautions that are available and much still remains to be done in the way of research and investigation.

"In the findings of the Conference there will be given to the people of the United States the answer of the scientific world to President Hoover's challenge that it should produce some formula which will enable all those who care for children to mold the boys and girls of today into the stalwarts to whom we may safely entrust our hopes of the future."

"It's the little things that tell"

That's what big sister said to her boy friend as she pulled little brother out from under the sofa. But wait till big sister and the boy friend are man and wife, with a home of their own to run. Then how much more she'll realize the truth of her observation!

For then the age old problems will come pressing hard. So much in the pocketbook. So much on the shopping list. Will it fit? Then's when the little things make the big difference. The little savings—the small economies—the slightly better values of which a good housekeeper takes advantage.

Then's when big sister will read the advertisements as she never read them before. Comparing values; learning reliable brands; watching the bargain and reduction announcements. . . . The advertisements will help her in a thousand ways to take care of the little things, acquire the little short-cuts in time and effort—in the big job of running a home.

Read the advertisements every day. Consistently advertised goods are worthy of your confidence . . . otherwise they couldn't be consistently advertised

BRAINERD WINS FROM MILACA IN FINAL HOME GAME 46-0

BRAINERD BACKS SCORE AVALANCHE OF TOUCHDOWNS

DAMMANN USES MAJORITY OF LARGE SQUAD IN VICTORY OVER MILACA TEAM

BRAINERD SCORES IN EVERY QUARTER; INTERCEPT TWO PASSES AND SCORE

By "HAPPY" COLE

A Brainerd high school football team that was taking advantage of every break and playing hard, fast football easily snowed under Milaca in the final home game of the season here yesterday by a score of 46-0. Milaca, represented by a light green team this year, was no match for the aggressive tactics of Coach Dammann's men, Brainerd scoring in every quarter.

Two of the Brainerd touchdowns came from intercepted passes. Dave Templeton intercepted a pass on the Milaca 30-yard line in the second quarter, shook off several tacklers and didn't stop until he had crossed the goal line. The other touchdown on an intercepted pass came early in the third quarter. Milaca, making its only scoring threat of the game, had advanced the ball far into Brainerd territory when the break came. Hogan intercepted a pass on his own 5-yard line, shook off two tacklers that came charging in to get him and then out-sprinted everybody on the field as he raced down the gridiron 95 yards for a touchdown. It was the longest run of the season at Municipal field.

The prettiest run of the day, however, was that of little Jimmy Heikinen. Brainerd speed merchant, early in the fourth quarter, Jimmy broke loose on the Brainerd 30-yard line on the first play after Brainerd came into possession of the ball. As he sailed around the left side of the Milaca line his interference began to form. The way that Jimmy followed his blockers was pretty to see. He cut back and forth and finally crossed the last white line for a touchdown. Brainerd played heads-up football all afternoon, and it was the linesmen just as much as the brilliant-running backs that were responsible for the smashing victory. Time after time, Franks, Moe, Lukens, the Wygle brothers—in fact most of the Brainerd linesmen broke through at one time or another to down the Milaca ball-carrier behind the line of scrimmage. And although it must be admitted that Milaca was weak it was still very evident that Brainerd is becoming a more and more polished football team. On several occasions the Brainerd blockers broke through and cut down the Milaca secondary defense and so allowed the ball-carriers to make long gains.

The game also showed the strength of Dammann's reserves. He used a number of men in the line throughout the contest and seven men, Gabiou, Hogan, Schuetz, Foster, Heikinen, Guin and Stout got their chances in the backfield.

If Dammann has any tricks up his sleeve he is saving them for Crosby-iron next Tuesday for straight football was enough to down Milaca yesterday.

The game was not slowed up much by either injuries or penalties. Taking too long in a huddle cost Milaca five yards but Brainerd was penalized 15 yards a few moments later for holding.

A determined march down the field brought the opening score of the game shortly after the kick-off. Hogan received the kick-off and carried the ball back to the Brainerd 40-yard line before he was downed. Schuetz sailed around the Milaca right end on the first play for ten yards and a first down. Hogan slipped off right tackle for nine yards and then Foster went smashing through left guard for five more yards and another first down. Hogan added a yard into the center of the line and Gabiou cut through the same spot for ten more.

Hogan cut through right tackle and another first down. Gabiou added another first down through the center of the Milaca line. With the ball on the Milaca ten-yard line Hogan slipped off right tackle for ten yards and a touchdown. Brainerd fumbled on the attempted line plunge for the point after the touchdown. Score: Brainerd 6, Milaca 0.

Hase kicked off to Trimble, who was downed on the Milaca 35-yard line. A line plunge failed and on the next play Franks broke through and nailed the ball-carrier behind the line of scrimmage. Another line play brought no gain and Frank Olson punted against the wind to Hogan on the Brainerd 35-yard line. Schuetz got loose around the left side of the Milaca line and traveled up the field for 22 yards before he was brought down. Hogan added a yard at right guard. Gabiou hit the center for two yards and Schuetz knifed through right tackle for another first down. On the next play Schuetz fumbled but recovered for Brainerd. A pass, Gabiou to Schuetz, was knocked down and another by the same combination was incomplete. It became Milaca's ball on their own 35-yard line.

On the first play Moe broke through and spilled the ball-carrier for a short loss. The next play into the line gained a yard. Milaca was penalized five yards for taking too long in a huddle. The Brainerd ends broke through and blocked the Milaca punt and it was Brainerd's ball on the Milaca 30-yard line. A long pass was incomplete. Jerry Wygle gained 15 yards on the next play, a fake pass. Schuetz hit right tackle for 3 yards as the quarter ended.

Second Quarter
It became Milaca's ball on downs on their own 22-yard line. Gilbert made a yard into the center of the line and F. Olson added two more in the same spot. V. Olson hit the center for two more. F. Olson punted to the Brainerd 40-yard line. A thrust at right tackle was good for two yards and Schuetz galloped through the same hole on the next play for 23 yards. Hogan picked up four yards (Continued on Page 6)

MICKEY WALKER WHIPS RISKO IN 10 ROUNDS

SPORTS—Mickey Walker Whips Risko ♦♦♦

WALKER GAVE AWAY 28 LBS., STEPPING OUT OF MIDDLE-WEIGHT CLASS

WINNER PAID LITTLE ATTENTION TO RISKO'S BULK AS HE TORE IN

Detroit, Mich., Nov. 8.—(UP)—Mickey Walker, Rumson, N. J., fighter who has worked his way through two classes, gaining the title in each, today had made his first bid for the heavyweight class a successful one.

Walker last night gave away 28 pounds and stepped out of the middle-weight class, of which he is champion, to whip Johnny Risko, one of the second flight heavyweights, in ten rounds. Walker who formerly held the welter-weight title, weighed 166, Risko 194 3-4.

Walker paid little attention to Risko's bulk as he tore in to take the decision. Risko, the Cleveland baker boy who has upset many a promoter's plans by scoring unexpected victories, used his weight and swung his heavy rights to Walker's body and head, but he could not stand off the rushing Walker attack or successfully block the latter's left hook.

Boston, Nov. 8.—(UP)—In a bout marred by considerable clinching and wrestling, Napoleon Jack Dorval, Emporium, Pa., heavyweight, won a close 10-round decision over Alvin (Babe) Hunt, of Ponca City, Okla., when they met at the Boston Garden last night.

Dorval had an edge in five rounds and Hunt led in three. The other two were even. Dorval weighed 208 pounds and Hunt 197.

In the preliminaries Speck Friend, Oklahoma, 135, knocked out Fred Dawson, Jamestown, N. Y., 136, (6).

Duluth, Minn., Nov. 8.—(UP)—Billy Petrolle, the "Fargo Express," out-punched Spag Meyers, Pocatello, Idaho, in the six round main event of a fight card here last night. Petrolle won every round after Meyers was downed to take two counts in the second. Charley Retzlaff, Duluth, knocked out Mike Mandell, St. Paul, in the second round. Billy Light, St. Paul, easily outboxed Mel Colman, Duluth.

San Francisco, Nov. 8.—(UP)—For the second time in a month "Babe" Marino, San Francisco welterweight, scored a knockout over Louis O'Neil, local boxer, here last night. The end came in the first minute of the fourth round of a scheduled ten round main event.

Chicago, Nov. 8.—(UP)—Solly Schuman, 128½, Chicago, knocked out Billy Locke, 129, South Bend, Ind., (6); Dan Gasparo, 172½, Chicago, stopped Chester Bush, 167½, New Orleans, (2); Dan Wordon, 153, Elgin, Ill., knocked out Johnny Baima, 155½, Chicago, (1); Joe Sharkey, 150½, Albion, Mich., defeated Herb Petersen, Los Angeles, (6); Freddie London, 127½, Chicago, drew with Sammy Genaro, 124½, Chicago, (4); and Mickey Mack, 118, Chicago, stopped Mickey Red Kerns, 115, Chicago, (2).

Holland, Mich., Nov. 8.—(UP)—Benny Touchstone, 187, outpunched Joe Lohman, 173, Toledo, O., (4); Bobby Oulgate, 160, Benton Harbor, outpunched Albert Knight, 160, Muskegon, Mich., (6); Alex S. Miller, 133, Kalamazoo, outpunched Bobby Young, 134, (6). Jack Dempsey refereed the bouts. Gov. Fred Green attended.

Lansing, Mich., Nov. 8.—(UP)—George Godfrey, heavyweight, knocked out Seal Harris, Chicago, (3).

FRANK POND TO COACH MINNESOTA HOCKEY TEAM

Minneapolis, Nov. 8.—(UP)—Frank Pond, former Minneapolis professional and Macalester coach, today was signed to coach the University of Minnesota hockey team. The appointment was made for one year.

Pond is a Minnesota alumnus. He was one of the founders of the hockey sport at the university and played on the teams of 1923-24-25. In 1925 he was golf captain.

He is now associated with a Minneapolis machinery manufacturing concern. Pond will serve only as hockey coach, being free to devote the rest of the year to business.

MINNESOTA SCORES FIVE TOUCHDOWNS IN THE FIRST HALF

GOPHER FIRST STRINGERS PILE UP MARGIN OF THREE TOUCHDOWNS

SECOND TEAM ADDS TWO MORE BEFORE RETIRING IN FAVOR OF THIRD TEAM

The score of the Minnesota-South Dakota game early in the fourth period was: Minnesota, 45; South Dakota, 9.

Minneapolis, Minn., Nov. 8.—(UP)—Minnesota's last home game of the 1936 football season opened this afternoon in the Memorial Stadium against South Dakota University.

Ideal football weather greeted the crowd of slightly more than 15,000 that attended the game which was the feature of a Legion day program.

The starting line-up:

South Dakota—Erickson, lg; Fitzgerald, lt; Clinker, lg; Gunderson, c; Hoppel, rg; Leer, rt; Carlson, re; Wohler, qb; Hanson, lhb; Hystled, rlb; Campbell, fb.

Minnesota—Nelson, lg; Boland, lt; Appman, lg; Stein, c; Munn, rg; Berry, rt; Hoeffer, re; Brockmeyer, qb; W. Hass, lhb; Brownell, rlb; Manders, fb.

FIRST QUARTER

Minnesota kicked off to South Dakota who failed to gain.

On Minnesota's first play Brockmeyer ran 39 yards for a touchdown. Brockmeyer converted. A poor punt gave Minnesota the ball on South Dakota's 20-yard line where Hass scored a touchdown after three plays. Brock-meyer's try for the point after touchdown was disallowed. Manders scored another touchdown. Brockmeyer failed to convert. Score Minnesota, 20; South Dakota, 0.

SECOND QUARTER

Minnesota's second team went in. Boland recovered Tierce's fumble and Leksell scored a touchdown for Minnesota after five line plunges. Wells failed to convert. Leksell scored again on a 32-yard run. South Dakota was off-side, giving Minnesota the extra point. Minnesota's third team went in.

The third stringers attempted a number of passes but failed to score. The half ended Minnesota, 32; South Dakota, 0.

ROCKNE SAYS THAT PENNSYLVANIA TILT TODAY IS NO ROMP

NOTRE DAME-PENN GAME TO DRAW CROWD OF 75,000 TO PHILADELPHIA

"WE WILL HAVE TO GIVE OUR BEST TO WIN," SAYS ASTUTE ROCKNE

Philadelphia, Nov. 8.—(UP)—"We expect a hard game from Pennsylvania today. Don't let anyone think we are taking them lightly," Knute Rockne, coach of Notre Dame's great undefeated and untied team said today.

The meeting of the Irish and the Quakers, which is drawing more than 75,000 spectators to Franklin field this afternoon, generally has been conceded to be in the nature of a romp for the boys from South Bend. But Rockne, most astute of all the football coaches in America, will not accept that prognostication.

"We probably will have to give our best to win," insisted the bald-headed sage of pipekin lore, as he shepherded his eager charges towards the scene of battle from their overnight rest at the Merchants and Manufacturers Country club.

It is true that Pennsylvania, after a rather disastrous start, is beginning to hit a winning stride, as last week's game against the strong University of Kansas (Jim Eusebi) team proved. And in these days of modern football and stiff schedules such as that of Notre Dame for 1936, it is extremely difficult for any team, however great, to keep going to victory from week to week.

These Good New Days

BOBBY JONES—IS THE BEST GOLFER OF ALL TIME!

Distance lends enchantment to the view as poets sing, and time with its legendary gildings paints the past in colors that glowingly evoke those "good old days" remarks which we all indulge in from time to time. What grand and glorious emotions, tradition and time can conjure when one is irritated by events of the present!

Many a sport bug all but moans: "Good fighters, today? Bah!" They rave naturally of Dempsey, Leonard, Britton, Wilde, etc., etc., yet when those stars were in their zenith, this Sport Bug recalls the same contemptuous complaints of "lack of class" coupled with like laments because Jeffries, Gans, Wolcott, McGovern, etc., etc., were no longer active.

As to current boxing, while the heavies seem not so hot, Stribling and Carnera may prove in a year or two worthy of the from Sullivan-through-Tunney championship tradition. And in the lighter classes, surely Jimmy McLarnin, Kid Chocolate, Young Corbett, Mickey Walker, Jackie Kid Berg, and one or two others compare most favorably with the greats in their classes of the past.

In football, allowing for the changes in rules, etc., general playing class was never so high as it is at present and, great though the growth of the game has been, its multiplicity of genuine superstars today is far greater proportionately than those of yesteryears. Line play particularly has improved vastly. Indeed, this Sport Bug thinks three of our leading 1936 varieties could defeat or at least hold their own against a trio of the best teams of the past three decades under even odds.

Golf (think of Jones, Tommy Armour, Horton Smith, Leo Diegel, et al) is far superior today than that played by the Vardons of the past; tennis, ditto. As to baseball, its 1936 version was surely on a par with that of its previous history, lively ball influences notwithstanding.

It's fine to think, and even talk, of "the good old days" but never let the fancy's perspective lead you to under or overestimate the present, especially in reference to athletic activities.

the zone of that fire, and countless alumni critics are already grumbling over failures of their pet teams.

Meanwhile, stands are filled to capacity in scores of American cities and villages at all important local games, and popular interest in football is spreading steadily.

Curiously enough, despite that interest trend, knowledge of the game's details is shockingly lacking so far as most of its followers are concerned, and nearly all its fine points are lost on its crowds.

But the grid's battle scenes—the clash of the scrimmage, the thrill of long runs and passes, and its booming kicks—are so spectacular that in many cases a fuller knowledge of the game is not necessary to its enjoyment.

BRAINERD WINS FROM MILACA IN FINAL HOME GAME 46-0

BRAINERD BACKS SCORE AVALANCHE OF TOUCHDOWNS

DAMMANN USES MAJORITY OF LARGE SQUAD IN VICTORY
OVER MILACA TEAM

BRAINERD SCORES IN EVERY QUARTER; INTERCEPT TWO PASSES AND SCORE
By "HAPPY" COLE

A Brainerd high school football team that was taking advantage of every break and playing hard, fast football easily snowed under Milaca in the final home game of the season here yesterday by a score of 46-0. Milaca, represented by a light, green team this year, was no match for the aggressive tactics of Coach Dammann's men, Brainerd scoring in every quarter.

Two of the Brainerd touchdowns came from intercepted passes. Dave Templeton intercepted a pass on the Milaca 30-yard line in the second quarter, shook off several tacklers and didn't stop until he had crossed the goal line. The other touchdown on an intercepted pass came early in the third quarter. Milaca, making its only scoring threat of the game, had advanced the ball far into Brainerd territory when the break came. Hogan intercepted a pass on his own 5-yard line, shook off two tacklers that came charging in to get him and then out-sprinted everybody on the field as he raced down the gridiron 95 yards for a touchdown. It was the longest run of the season at Municipal field.

The prettiest run of the day, however, was that of little Jimmy Heikinen, Brainerd speed merchant, early in the fourth quarter. Jimmy broke loose on the Brainerd 30-yard line on the first play after Brainerd came into possession of the ball. As he sailed around the left side of the Milaca line his interference began to form. The way that Jimmy followed his blockers was pretty to see. He cut back and forth and finally crossed the last white line for a touchdown. Brainerd played heads-up football all afternoon, and it was the linesmen just as much as the brilliant-running backs that were responsible for the smashing victory. Time after time, Franks, Moe, Lukens, the Wylie brothers—in fact most of the Brainerd linesmen broke through at one time or another to down the Milaca ball-carrier behind the line of scrimmage. And although it must be admitted that Milaca was weak it was still very evident that Brainerd is becoming a more and more polished football team. On several occasions the Brainerd blockers broke through and cut down the Milaca secondary defense and so allowed the ball-carriers to make long gains.

The game also showed the strength of Dammann's reserves. He used a number of men in the line throughout the contest and seven men, Gabiou, Hogan, Schuetz, Foster, Heikinen, Guin and Stout got their chances in the backfield.

If Dammann has any tricks up his sleeve he is saving them for Crosby-Fronton next Tuesday for straight football was enough to down Milaca yesterday.

The game was not slowed up much by either injuries or penalties. Taking too long in a huddle cost Milaca five yards but Brainerd was penalized 15 yards a few moments later for holding.

A determined march down the field brought the opening score of the game shortly after the kick-off. Hogan received the kick-off and carried the ball back to the Brainerd 40-yard line before he was downed. Schuetz sailed around the Milaca right end on the first play for ten yards and a first down. Hogan slipped off right tackle for nine yards and then Foster went smashing through left guard for five more yards and another first down. Hogan added a yard into the center of the line and Gabiou cut through the same spot for ten more.

Hogan cut through right tackle and another first down. Gabiou added another first down through the center of the Milaca line. With the ball on the Milaca ten-yard line Hogan slipped off right tackle for ten yards and a touchdown. Brainerd fumbled on the attempted line plunge for the point after the touchdown. Score: Brainerd 6, Milaca 0.

Hass kicked off to Trimble, who was downed on the Milaca 36-yard line. A line plunge failed and on the next play Franks broke through and nailed the ball-carrier behind the line of scrimmage. Another line play brought no gain and Frank Olson punted against the wind to Hogan on the Brainerd 35-yard line. Schuetz got loose around the left side of the Milaca line and traveled up the field for 22 yards before he was brought down. Hogan added a yard at right guard. Gabiou hit the center for two yards and Schuetz knifed through right tackle for another first down. On the next play Schuetz fumbled but recovered for Brainerd. A pass, Gabiou to Schuetz, was knocked down and another by the same combination was incomplete. It became Milaca's ball on their own 35-yard line.

On the first play Moe broke through and spilled the ball-carrier for a short loss. The next play into the line gained a yard. Milaca was penalized five yards for taking too long in a huddle. The Brainerd ends broke through and blocked the Milaca punt and it was Brainerd's ball on the Milaca 30-yard line. A long pass was incomplete. Jerry Wylie gained 15 yards on the next play, a fake pass. Schuetz hit right tackle for 3 yards as the quarter ended.

Second Quarter
It became Milaca's ball on downs on their own 22-yard line. Gilbert made a yard into the center of the line and F. Olson added two more in the same spot. V. Olson hit the center for two more. F. Olson punted to the Brainerd 40-yard line. A thrust at right tackle was good for two yards and Schuetz galloped through the same hole on the next play for 23 yards. Hogan picked up four yards. ## MICKEY WALKER WHIPS RISKO IN 10 ROUNDS

SPORTS—Mickey Walker Whips Risko

WALKER GAVE AWAY 28 LBS.,
STEPPING OUT OF MIDDLE-WEIGHT CLASS

WINNER PAID LITTLE ATTEN-TION TO RISK'S BULK AS HE TORE IN

Detroit, Mich., Nov. 8.—(UP)—Mickey Walker, Rumson, N. J., fighter who has worked his way through two classes, gaining the title in each, today had made his first bid for the heavyweight class a successful one.

Walker last night gave away 28 pounds and stepped out of the middle-weight class, of which he is champion, to whip Johnny Risko, one of the second light heavyweights, in ten rounds. Walker who formerly held the welter-weight title, weighed 166, Risko 134 3-4.

Walker paid little attention to Risko's bulk as he tore in to take the decision. Risko, the Cleveland baker boy who has upset many a promoter's plans by scoring unexpected victories, used his weight and swung his heavy rights to Walker's body and head, but he could not stand off the rushing Walker attack or successfully block the latter's left hook.

Boston, Nov. 8.—(UP)—In a bout marred by considerable clinching and wrestling, Napoleon Jack Dorval, Emporium, Pa., heavyweight, won a close 10-round decision over Alvin (Babe) Hunt, of Ponca City, Okla., when they met at the Boston Garden last night.

Dorval had an edge in five rounds and Hunt led in three. The other two were even. Dorval weighed 208 pounds and Hunt 197.

In the preliminaries Speck Friend, Oklahoma, 135, knocked out Fred Dawson, Jamestown, N. Y., 136, (6).

Duluth, Minn., Nov. 8.—(UP)—Billy Petrolle, the "Fargo Express" out-pouted Spug Meyers, Pocastello, Idaho, in the six round main event of a fight card here last night. Petrolle won every round after Meyers was downed to take two counts in the second. Charley Retzlaff, Duluth, knocked out Mike Mandell, St. Paul, in the second round. Billy Light, St. Paul, easily outboxed Mel Colman, Duluth.

San Francisco, Nov. 8.—(UP)—For the second time in a month "Babe" Marino, San Francisco welterweight scored a knockout over Louis O'Neil, local boxer, here last night. The win came in the first minute of the fourth round of a scheduled ten round main event.

Chicago, Nov. 8.—(UP)—Solly Schuman, 128½, Chicago, knocked out Billy Locke, 129, South Bend, Ind., (6); Dan Gasparo, 172½, Chicago, stopped Chester Bush, 167½, New Orleans, (2); Dan Wordon, 153, Elgin, Ill., knocked out Johnny Balma, 155½, Chicago, (1); Joe Sharkey, 130½, Albion, Mich., defeated Herb Petersen, Los Angeles, (6); Freddie London, 127½, Chicago, drew with Sammy Genaro, 124½, Chicago, (4); and Mickey Mack, 118, Chicago, stopped Mickey Red Kerns, 115, Chicago, (2).

Holland, Mich., Nov. 8.—(UP)—Benny Touchstone, 167, outpouted Joe Lehman, 173, Toledo, O., (10); Bobby Osigine, 160, Benton Harbor, out-pouted Albert Engle, 180, Muskegon, Mich., (6); Alex S. Miller, 135, Kalamazoo, outpouted Bobby Young, 131, (6). Jack Dempsey refereed the bouts. Gov. Fred Green attended.

Lansing, Mich., Nov. 8.—(UP)—George Godfrey, heavyweight, knocked out Seal Harris, Chicago, (3).

FRANK POND TO COACH MINNESOTA HOCKEY TEAM

Minneapolis, Nov. 8.—(UP)—Frank Pond, former Minneapolis professional and Macalester coach, today was signed to coach the University of Minnesota hockey team. The appointment was made for one year.

Pond is a Minnesota alumnus. He was one of the founders of the hockey sport at the university and played on the teams of 1922-23-24. In 1923 he was golf captain.

He is now associated with a Minneapolis machinery manufacturing concern. Pond will serve only as hockey coach, being free to devote the rest of the year to business.

The score of the Minnesota-South Dakota game early in the fourth period was: Minnesota, 45; South Dakota, 0.

Minneapolis, Minn., Nov. 8.—(UP)—Minnesota's last home game of the 1936 football season opened this afternoon in the Memorial Stadium against South Dakota University.

Ideal football weather greeted the crowd of slightly more than 15,000 that attended the game which was the feature of a Legion day program.

The starting line-up:

South Dakota—Ericson, le; Fitzgerald, lt; Clinker, lg; Gunderson, c; Hoppel, rg; Lee, rt; Carlson, re; Wohler, qb; Hanson, lhb; Hyllsted, rbb; Campbell, fb.
Minnesota—Nelson, le; Boland, lt; Appman, lg; Stein, c; Munn, rg; Berry, rt; Hoefler, re; Brockmeyer, qb; W. Hass, lhb; Brownell, rbb; Manders, fb.

FIRST QUARTER
Minnesota kicked off to South Dakota who failed to gain.

On Minnesota's first play Brockmeyer ran 30 yards for a touchdown. Brockmeyer converted. A poor punt gave Minnesota the ball on South Dakota's 20-yard line where Hass scored a touchdown after three plays. Brock-meyer's try for the point after touchdown was disallowed. Manders scored another touchdown. Brockmeyer failed to convert. Score Minnesota, 20; South Dakota, 0.

SECOND QUARTER
Minnesota's second team went in. Boland recovered Tierce's fumble and Leksell scored a touchdown for Minnesota after five line plunges. Wells failed to convert. Leksell scored again on a 32-yard run. South Dakota was off-side, giving Minnesota the extra point. Minnesota's third team went in.

The third stringers attempted a number of passes but failed to score. The half ended Minnesota, 32; South Dakota, 0.

Nothing New

ROCKNE SAYS THAT PENNSYLVANIA TILT TODAY IS NO ROMP

NOTRE DAME-PENN GAME TO DRAW CROWD OF 75,000 TO PHILADELPHIA

"WE WILL HAVE TO GIVE OUR BEST TO WIN," SAYS ASTUTE
ROCKNE

Philadelphia, Nov. 8.—(UP)—"We expect a hard game from Pennsylvania today. Don't let anyone think we are taking them lightly," Knute Rockne, coach of Notre Dame's great undefeated and untied team said today.

The meeting of the Irish and the Quakers, which is drawing more than 75,000 spectators to Franklin field this afternoon, generally has been conceded to be in the nature of a romp for the boys from South Bend. But Rockne, most astute of all the football coaches in America, will not accept that prognostication.

"We probably will have to give our best to win," insisted the bald-headed sage of piggins lore, as he shepherded his eager charges towards the scene of battle from their overnight rest at the Merchants and Manufacturers Country club.

It is true that Pennsylvania, after a rather disastrous start, is beginning to hit a winning stride, as last week's game against the strong University of Kansas (Jim Eausch) team proved. And in these days of modern football and stiff schedules such as that of Notre Dame for 1936, it is extremely difficult for any team, however great, to keep going to victory from week to week.

DISTANCE lends enchantment to the view as poets sing, and time with its legendary gildings paints the past in colors that glowingly evoke those "good old days" remarks which we all indulge in from time to time. What grand and glorious emotions, tradition and time can conjure when one is irritated by events of the present!

Many a sport bug all but means: "Good fighters, today? Bah!" They rave naturally of Dempsey, Leonard, Britton, Wilde, etc., etc., yet when those stars were in their zenith, this Sport Bug recalls the same contemptuous complaints of "lack of class" coupled with like laments because Jeffries, Gans, Wolcott, McGovern, etc., etc., were no longer active.

As to current boxing, while the heavies seem not so hot, Stribling and Carnera may prove in a year or two worthy of the from Sullivan-through-Tunney championship tradition. And in the lighter classes, surely Jimmy McLarnin, Kid Chocolate, Young Corbett, Mickey Walker, Jackie Kid Berg, and one or two others compare most favorably with the greats in their classes of the past.

In football, allowing for the changes in rules, etc., general playing class was never so high as it is at present, and great though the growth of the game has been, its multiplicity of genuine superstars today is far greater proportionately than those of yesteryears. Line play particularly has improved vastly. Indeed, this Sport Bug thinks three of our leading 1936 varieties could defeat or at least hold their own against a trio of the best teams of the past three decades under even old rules.

Golf (think of Jones, Tommy Armour, Horton Smith, Leo Diegel, et al) is far superior today than that played by the Vardons of the past; tennis, ditto. As to baseball, its 1930 version was surely on a par with that of its previous history, lively ball influences not withstanding.

It's fine to think, and even talk, of "the good old days" but never let the fancy's perspective lead you to under or overestimate the present, especially in reference to athletic activities.

And Yale entertains Alfred at New Haven in what should prove to be about the airiest "breather" ever, the lion vs. the lamb served in delicatessen style right on the gridiron! If you ever had a secret yearning to exchange wallops with Jack Dempsey, or to find out if Primo Carnera could fight by dancing on his colossal corn fields, that combative urge would be completely satisfied were you able to get into the Alfred line-up this afternoon. "Bugs" Baer ought to cover that game and Ed Wynn should broadcast it!

As the 1936 grid season swings into its final month, the usual "overemphasis" protests are being heard from ultra-conservative collegiate viewers—with alarm, high priced professional coaching is in the zone of that fire, and countless alumni critics are already grumbling over failures of their pet teams.

Meanwhile, stands are filled to capacity in scores of American cities and villages at all important local games, and popular interest in football is spreading steadily. Curiously enough, despite that interest trend, knowledge of the game's details is shockingly lacking so far as most of its followers are concerned, and nearly all its fine points are lost on its crowds. But the grid's battle scenes—the clash of the scrimmage, the thrill of long runs and passes, and its booming kicks—are so spectacular that in many cases a fuller knowledge of the game is not necessary to its enjoyment.

BRAINERD WINS FROM MILACA IN FINAL HOME GAME, 46 TO 0

around left end and then hit the center of the Milaca line for another first down. Gabiou hit the line for nine more yards and then again for a first down. It was Brainerd's ball on the Milaca 10-yard line. E. Foster hit the line for four yards. Schuety carried it to the 1-yard line and Foster smashed over for a touchdown through the center of the line. A pass from Gabiou to Bob Wygle for the extra point was incomplete. Score: Brainerd, 12; Milaca, 0.

Hass kicked off to V. Olson on the Milaca 20-yard line. A sleeper pass, to Luchsinger was good for 30 yards and the first Milaca first down. Another pass was incomplete and on the next play Franks got through and smeared the play before it got started. Another pass was incomplete and F. Olson punted. The punt was partially blocked and it became Brainerd's ball on their own 43-yard line. Schuety hit tackle for two yards.

Jimmy Heikkinen, now in the game for Schuety, hit the center of the line. He almost got entirely free and ran up to the Milaca 20-yard line before he was finally pulled down. Another thrust at the line brought no gain. Heikkinen fumbled but recovered for Brainerd on the next play. A pass, E. Foster to Wygle, was incomplete and F. Foster lost five yards for off-side. Another pass from E. Foster to Wygle over the goal line was knocked down by V. Olson.

It was Milaca's ball on their own 20-yard line. A Milaca pass was knocked down by Templeton, now in the game for Gabiou. F. Olson made eight yards around left end and then hit right tackle for six more yards and a first down.

Bob Wygle almost intercepted a pass from Luchsinger. On the next play three Brainerd linesmen broke through and smeared the ball-carrier for a 4-yard loss. The next play was a pass. Templeton intercepted it on the 30-yard line, shook off two tacklers and crossed the goal line unopposed. E. Foster plunged over the line for the extra point. Score: Brainerd, 19; Milaca, 0.

F. Olson brought the kick-off back to the 33-yard line for Milaca. Milaca was off-side on the next play. Donald Guin went in for E. Foster. On the next play the Milaca back was downed behind the line of scrimmage. End of the second quarter.

Third Quarter

F. Olson brought the ball back to the Milaca 36-yard line on a nice run. A pass, Luchsinger to F. Olson, was complete, and the ball rested on the Brainerd 34-yard line. F. Olson took the ball out of bounds with no gain. The next play was a pass and the ball went into a mass of would-be receivers. The official ruled that the pass was interfered with and it was first down for Milaca on the Brainerd 22-yard line. Several line plays brought a first down. Bob Wygle broke through and threw the ball-carrier for a loss.

Luchsinger decided to risk all on a pass. Hogan intercepted it for Brainerd on his own 5-yard line, shook off a tackler and then raced down the sideline 95 yards for a touchdown. Templeton failed in his plunge for the extra point. Score: Brainerd, 25; Milaca, 0.

Brainerd kicked off and F. Olson made eight yards on the first play around left end. A line play brought no gain and on the next play Luken broke through and downed the ball-carrier for a 3-yard loss. F. Olson punted to Heikkinen, who returned the ball to midfield before he was downed. Heikkinen dashed around the end and up to the Milaca 30-yard line on the next play. Hogan slipped off-tackle for two yards but lost a yard on an attempted end run. Luchsinger intercepted a pass on his own 37-yard line.

Two line plays brought no gain and F. Olson's punt was almost blocked. Heikkinen made 12 yards on a run around right end but on the next play he fumbled and recovered but lost two yards. Hogan added five on an off-tackle play. Gilbert knocked down Heikkinen's pass and it was Milaca's ball. They tried a quick kick on first down but the kick was hurried.

Templeton was thrown for a loss as a line play failed. Two more line plays without much gain and Brainerd kicked to midfield. E. Foster came back in the game for Guin. Milaca tried another quick kick on first down but Hogan brought the ball back to midfield as the quarter ended.

Fourth Quarter

Foster gained 6½ yards on two plunges into the line. A pass from Foster to Bob Wygle was incomplete. A kick and it was Milaca's ball on their own 41 yard line. Gabiou came in for Templeton in the Brainerd backfield.

Frank Olson could not gain for Milaca on a series of line plays and punted to the Brainerd 30 yard line. On the first play Jimmy Heikkinen broke loose around left end, and followed his interference beautifully for a 70 yard run down the field and a touchdown. Foster plunged for the extra point. Score: Brainerd 32, Milaca 0.

Brainerd kicked to the Milaca 5 yard line. Milaca kicked from behind their goal line out to their 30 yard line. Heikkinen cut off left tackle for 12 yards. A plunge by Foster carried the ball to the 12 yard line. Heikkinen hit right tackle for 3 yards and a moment later hit the same spot for the remaining 9 yards and a touchdown.

Hass drop-kicked a goal for the extra point. Score Brainerd 46, Milaca 0.

Stout was in the Brainerd backfield for E. Foster. Milaca kicked and the ball was brought back to the Brainerd 40 yard line. Stout fumbled but recovered for Brainerd but the play lost 10 yards. Heikkinen slid off-tackle for 6 yards. It became Milaca's ball and a quick kick by F. Olson was hurried and was only good for ten yards.

A pass to Stout was incomplete. Two line plays without much gain and the game was over with the ball in Brainerd's possession in midfield. Final score Brainerd 46, Milaca 0.

Bank Cash Paradox

The paradox of a run on a bank is well expressed by the case of the man who inquired of his bank whether it had cash available for paying the amount of his deposit, saying: "If you can pay me, I don't want my money; but if you can't, I do." All depositors want to be sure their money "is there." Yet it never is there all at one time.

Beggars Once Licensed

Licenses to beg for the ransoms of Christians captured by the Turks were common long before Queen Elizabeth's reign. As early as 1517 a list compiled of the beggars and poor of each ward in London numbered over 1,000. To the persons on this list were issued the first beggars' licenses—round tin badges with the arms of the city of London stamped upon them. Every one else was forbidden to beg, under penalty of death. Those who had badges were expected to do a little police work by helping to drive any foreign competition out of town.

Dieting Not a New Fad

There is in existence an illustration bearing the date of 1614 which proves to us that even so long ago there was an interest in diet. At that time one Sanctonius built himself a weighing chair so that he could see just how much food he ate daily. This chair was an ingenious device connected with a high steel rod on which there was a movable weight. The weight was pushed over to equal the weight of himself and the food he was about to eat. Then sitting in this chair he would eat until the chair dipped, when he would end his repast.

Queensland "Rainmakers"

In Queensland rainmakers use a rain stick—a piece of wood 20 inches long to which three rain stones have been attached. The rainmakers go to a lonely pool, one of them fixes the rain stick in a hollow log, and everybody leaps in the water and splashes it. On the way home the men scratch their shins and the tops of their heads with twigs. No woman may set eyes on the rain stick, although the wife of the chief rainmaker is permitted to scratch her shins with a twig if she cares to.

Not at Home

Wilson was a fine specimen of what a soldier should not be, and as he slouched up to the recruiting office the burly sergeant eyed him contemptuously.

"Well," said the latter, with the full power of both his lungs, "and what do you want, Hercules?"

"I've come for a soldier," said the other, very wearily.

"Oh, have you," replied the sergeant, with a grim smile. "Well, you had better call another day; they are all out at present."—London Answers.

Bequest for Merrymaking

Herr Feller, a Swiss brewer, left all his money to the town of Thun because he had made it there, and having no near relatives thought it only fair it should go back. Once a year, he ordained, the members of the Society of Fine Arts should enjoy a banquet at his expense, and he left the contents of his priceless cellar to provide wines for this purpose. The wines were to be drunk from his own silver goblets, and the flowers were to be from his own garden.

From the Latin

"Electricity" and kindred words are derived from the Latin word "electrum," meaning amber. The name was given on account of the production of electricity by the friction of amber.

around left end and then hit the center of the Milaca line for another first down. Gabiou hit the line for nine more yards and then again for a first down. It was Brainerd's ball on the Milaca 10-yard line. E. Foster hit the line for four yards. Schuety carried it to the 1-yard line and Foster smashed over for a touchdown through the center of the line. A pass from Gabiou to Bob Wygle for the extra point was incomplete. Score: Brainerd, 12; Milaca, 0.

Hass kicked off to V. Olson on the Milaca 20-yard line. A sleeper pass, to Luchsinger was good for 30 yards and the first Milaca first down. Another pass was incomplete and on the next play Franks got through and smeared the play before it got started. Another pass was incomplete and F. Olson punted. The punt was partially blocked and it became Brainerd's ball on their own 43-yard line. Schuety hit left tackle for two yards.

Jimmy Heikkinen, now in the game for Schuety, hit the center of the line. He almost got entirely free and ran up to the Milaca 20-yard line before he was finally pulled down. Another thrust at the line brought no gain. Heikkinen fumbled but recovered for Brainerd on the next play. A pass, E. Foster to Wygle, was incomplete and Brainerd lost five yards for off-side. Another pass from E. Foster to Wygle over the goal line was knocked down by V. Olson.

It was Milaca's ball on their own 20-yard line. A Milaca pass was knocked down by Templeton, now in the game for Gabiou. F. Olson made eight yards around left end and then hit right tackle for six more yards and a first down.

Bob Wygle almost intercepted a pass from Luchsinger. On the next play three Brainerd linemen broke through and smeared the ball-carrier for a 4-yard loss. The next play was a pass. Templeton intercepted it on the 30-yard line, shook off two tacklers and crossed the goal line unimpeded. E. Foster plunged over the line for the extra point. Score: Brainerd, 19; Milaca, 0.

F. Olson brought the kick-off back to the 33-yard line for Milaca. Milaca was off-side on the next play. Donald Guin went in for E. Foster. On the next play the Milaca back was downed behind the line of scrimmage. End of the second quarter.

Third Quarter

F. Olson brought the ball back to the Milaca 36-yard line on a nice run. A pass, Luchsinger to F. Olson, was complete, and the ball rested on the Brainerd 34-yard line. F. Olson took the ball out of bounds with no gain. The next play was a pass and the ball went into a mass of would-be receivers. The official ruled that the pass was interfered with and it was first down for Milaca on the Brainerd 22-yard line. Several line plays brought a first down. Bob Wygle broke through and threw the ball-carrier for a loss.

Luchsinger decided to risk all on a pass. Hogan intercepted it for Brainerd on his own 5-yard line, shook off a tackler and then raced down the side-lines 85 yards for a touchdown. Templeton failed in his plunge for the extra point. Score: Brainerd, 25; Milaca, 0.

Brainerd kicked off and F. Olson made eight yards on the first play around left end. A line play brought no gain and on the next play Luken broke through and downed the ball-carrier for a 3-yard loss. F. Olson punted to Heikkinen, who returned the ball to midfield before he was downed. Heikkinen dashed around the end and up to the Milaca 30-yard line on the next play. Hogan slipped off-tackle for two yards but lost a yard on an attempted end run. Luchsinger intercepted a pass on his own 37-yard line.

Two line plays brought no gain and F. Olson's punt was almost blocked. Heikkinen made 12 yards on a run around right end but on the next play he fumbled and recovered but lost two yards. Hogan added five on an off-tackle play. Gilbert knocked down Heikkinen's pass and it was Milaca's ball. They tried a quick kick on first down but the kick was hurried.

Templeton was thrown for a loss as a line play failed. Two more line plays without much gain and Brainerd kicked to midfield. E. Foster came back in the game for Guin. Milaca tried another quick kick on first down but Hogan brought the ball back to midfield as the quarter ended.

Fourth Quarter

Foster gained 6½ yards on two plunges into the line. A pass from Foster to Bob Wygle was incomplete. A kick and it was Milaca's ball on their own 41 yard line. Gabiou came in for Templeton in the Brainerd backfield.

Frank Olson could not gain for Milaca on a series of line plays and punted to the Brainerd 30 yard line. On the first play Jimmy Heikkinen broke loose around left end, and followed his interference beautifully for a 70 yard run down the field and a touchdown. Foster plunged for the extra point. Score, Brainerd 32; Milaca 0.

Frank Olson caught the kick-off and ran back a few yards. He made three yards by hitting the Brainerd line of the first play. The Brainerd line held on the next play. F. Olson hit the line for 10 yards and a first down. Foster picked up a Milaca fumble and it was Brainerd's ball on the Milaca 38 yard line. Foster hit the center for 6 yards and on the next play hit the center again. This time he broke loose and ran 32 yards for a touchdown. Gabiou plunged over the line for the extra point. Score Brainerd 39, Milaca 0.

Brainerd kicked to the Milaca 5 yard line. Milaca kicked from behind their goal line out to their 30 yard line. Heikkinen cut off left tackle for 12 yards. A plunge by Foster carried the ball to the 12 yard line. Heikkinen hit right tackle for 3 yards and a moment later hit the same spot for the remaining 9 yards and a touchdown.

Hass drop-kicked a goal for the extra point. Score Brainerd 46, Milaca 0.

Stout was in the Brainerd backfield for E. Foster. Milaca kicked and the ball was brought back to the Brainerd 40 yard line. Stout fumbled but recovered for Brainerd but the play lost 10 yards. Heikkinen slid off-tackle for 6 yards. It became Milaca's ball and a quick kick by F. Olson was hurried and was only good for ten yards.

A pass to Stout was incomplete. Two line plays without much gain and the game was over with the ball in Brainerd's possession in midfield. Final score Brainerd 46, Milaca 0.

Chevrolet Models for 1931 Will Stimulate Employment

Detroit, Nov. 8.—(UP)—Introduction today of Chevrolet cars for 1931, two months in advance of new model showings of other years, will stimulate employment, directly or indirectly, for approximately 200,000 men, it was announced today.

By advancing the manufacturing program, President William S. Knudsen said that the Chevrolet division of the General Motors Corp. puts the main plant at Flint, Mich., and assembly units in 19 other cities into volume operation.

The 1931 line, consisting of nine body types, represents price reductions of from $20 to $40. The 1931 prices range from $475 to $650 as compared with $495 to $655 for the old line.

EVENTS SCHEDULED BY LEGION POST

Plans Set for Annual Armistice
Dance; "Duck Feed" on November 17

Auxiliary to Serve Food at "Buddy"
Dinner at Legion Hall
Tuesday Evening

This week marks the beginning of a new year for the local post of the American Legion under the leadership of Jack Aiton.

The meeting Monday evening was well attended and many plans were made for the coming year as well as for the immediate future.

Among the things that were reported on was the annual Armistice dance. The committee reported that they had secured Lou's new seven piece band for music. The U. C. T. hall was rented for the occasion and Roy Newman, chairman of the dance committee informed the Legion that the hall was under new management and that it was being gone over by the new manager and redecorated. There will be a large rotating crystal reflector suspended from the center of the ceiling with flood lights focused on it from the corners. The dance will be of a carnival nature and a lot of hats and noise makers will be given out to help the dancers celebrate properly.

The Legion were informed that the Auxiliary had planned a "buddy dinner" and that all of the Legionnaires were urged to attend. The dinner will be held in the Legion hall at 6 o'clock Armistice night. The Auxiliary is furnishing the dinner and serving it and all that is required is that the man be a member of the American Legion.

The date for the "duck feed" was set for Nov. 17 at the Legion hall. Geo. Berkholder the chairman in charge of securing the ducks reports that his committee has functioned and that the ducks are in readiness. Al Veillette necessary arrangements and reports chairman of the "feed" has made all that they will be all set for the big event. Archie Falconer's committee is busy securing a program for that night and reports that he will secure Eddie Lindell for the main speaker. "Eddie" is the state adjutant of the Legion and has expressed a desire to take in one of the Legion's famous "duck feeds" at Brainerd.

The membership drive is progressing nicely with Al Veillette still in the lead. The week from Nov. 4 to Nov. 11 has been set as the national membership week by the Legion and for that occasion each post has secured billboard space showing the words American Legion and some of the Legion's main work.

The membership quota for the coming year is set at 114 and it is the wish post will have its "drive" completed by the end of the year. Jack Aiton that the Nov. 11 so that the more important work can be taken up and carried on. There is also a keen competition between the ten districts of the state as to which one will reach its quota first and as the local post is furnishing the commander for the Sixth district they are more anxious that all of the eligible men be signed up so as to give the district a good showing.

Election Highlights Throughout District

The defeat of Sheriff L. G. Moricel of Cass county provided the biggest upset in that county. C. E. Merry's persistent campaign gave him a vote of 3374 to Moricel's 2193.

Other winners in Cass county included: Edward L. Rogers who nosed out Ed. Lundrigan, incumbent for the office of county attorney by 78 votes; V. Lockwood's home precinct gave him sufficient majority to win over Harley Coffland for the legislature post; Cater came through with a 1496 majority to retain his position as county auditor over his opponent, Joe Waddell.

"Billy" Wood, veteran county attorney of Todd county slipped back into office again on a meager nine votes over Louis J. Pluta. G. B. Naylor succeeds Joyce Lewis in the legislature. Sheriff Adams was reelected.

Harold J. Peck, of Deer River, Itasca county, defeated Patrick H. McGarry of Walker, Cass county, to succeed Senator Alfred L. Thwing of Grand Rapids, who won over Judge M. E. Ryan for judge of the 15th judicial district.

Hubbard county reelected all its official family with the exception of county attorney. R. O. Webster who held that office for 12 years lost to Charles L. Clark by 501 votes.

Ellen Anderson who won in the race for county superintendent of schools over S. O. Tang was the only new contestant for office to gain election in Clay county. All former officers were returned.

Beltrami county gave majorities to Erickson for representative in the legislature, Johnson as county auditor, Andrew Johnson as sheriff, Jones as county attorney, and McGhee as superintendent of schools.

Over in Aitkin county the voters cast ballots electing two new county board members, and new county attorney, treasurer, superintendent of schools while two board members, register of deeds, sheriff, clerk of court, surveyor and coroner survived. Those elected include: Claude V. Cline, auditor; Roy A. Tiffany, treasurer; Victor E. Erickson, register of deeds; C. S. Lind, sheriff; John T. Galaneault, county attorney; H. D. Keath, county surveyor; C. M. Deming, clerk of court; Harriet Millard, superintendent of schools; C. D. Viebahn, John W. Autio, Carl Magnuson, Theodore Arnes, commissioners.

Crow Wing county showed that although Fred G. Mayberry carried 26 precincts, the 25 precincts who gave majorities to Harold T. Molstad were sufficient to elect him superintendent of schools. Ryan carried 49 precincts, Hagberg carried 32, Sullivan 35, and Jenkins 38.

NO ROYAL ROAD TO BUSINESS SUCCESS

The rapid rise of radio has stimulated the public imagination, and there are many who have come to the conclusion that by entering this new industry they may rise to fame and fortune overnight. This, of course, is not true.

There are many high-salaried positions in the radio industry, just as there are in the automobile industry, the food industry, or any other great commercial enterprise. The men who occupy these positions are selected for exceptional acuteness, keen judgment, ability to handle men, and mature experience. Likewise, ordinary ability is rewarded with moderate salaries as in all walks of life.

The vast majority of clerical and factory positions require a knowledge and skill comparable to that necessary for similar positions in other enterprises, and involve similar rates of compensation.

Paid According to Ability

This brings us to the technical side of radio. The radio research engineer, who designs radio receivers and develops new radio inventions, is usually a graduate of a university. The well-trained electrical engineer has all of the foundation necessary for radio work, and so-called "radio engineers" are usually electrical engineering graduates. They are paid according to their ability.

Radio service and test men receive about the same rate as skilled workers in other lines, such as the machine tool trade. When working for dealers and distributors, their pay may be somewhat higher than in a factory, especially if they are called upon to do some selling as well as servicing. Those who are in business for themselves servicing radios in the home frequently build up quite profitable businesses, while others, of course, fail completely, depending upon their enterprise and business ability and general circumstances.

Perhaps no other type of work depends so much upon native ability as selling. A good salesman will make money no matter what he is selling. A poor one will fail. There are many great opportunities for real salesmen.

The trouble about advising one with regard to a radio career depends so much upon the individual that one finds it difficult to give definite rules. If you have ability, and radio appeals to you, it is worth a try. If you have an established trade which gives you a reasonable income, think twice. In any event, be prepared for hard work and endless struggle against competition. There is no royal road to success, in radio or any other industry.

Neighborly Interest

Another big disappointment these days is discovering that the neighbors are not having a big family fuss after all, but that all the racket is coming from the radio.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

MINNESOTA LEADS IN THRIFT REPORT

New evidence of the growing tendency toward thrift and sound investment on the part of the American public, despite general business depression and unemployment in many lines, is offered in the October report of the Investors Syndicate, showing that its sales of investment certificates in the first nine months of this year approximately equalled those of the record breaking 1929 period. Also, for the first time in more than two years, Minnesota assumed first rank in the monthly production, showing gains where other sections suffered losses, and indicating the ability of people in this part of the country to maintain their thrift programs.

Chevrolet Models for 1931 Will Stimulate Employment

Detroit, Nov. 8.—(UP)—Introduction today of Chevrolet cars for 1931, two months in advance of new model showings of other years, will stimulate employment, directly or indirectly, for approximately 200,000 men, it was announced today.

By advancing the manufacturing program, President William S. Knudsen said that the Chevrolet division of the General Motors Corp. puts the main plant at Flint, Mich., and assembly units in 19 other cities into volume operation.

The 1931 line, consisting of nine body types, represents price reductions of from $20 to $40. The 1931 prices range from $475 to $650 as compared with $495 to $685 for the old line.

EVENTS SCHEDULED BY LEGION POST

Plans Set for Annual Armistice Dance; "Duck Feed" on November 17

Auxiliary to Serve Food at "Buddy" Dinner at Legion Hall Tuesday Evening

This week marks the beginning of a new year for the local post of the American Legion under the leadership of Jack Alton.

The meeting Monday evening was well attended and many plans were made for the coming year as well as for the immediate future.

Among the things that were reported on was the annual Armistice dance. The committee reported that they had secured Lou's new seven piece band for music. The U. C. T. hall was rented for the occasion and Roy Newman, chairman of the dance committee informed the Legion that the hall was under new management and that it was being gone over by the new manager and redecorated. There will be a large rotating crystal reflector suspended from the center of the ceiling with flood lights focused on it from the corners. The dance will be of a carnival nature and a lot of hats and noise makers will be given out to help the dancers celebrate properly.

The Legion were informed that the Auxiliary had planned a "buddy dinner" and that all of the Legionnaires were urged to attend. The dinner will be held in the Legion hall at 6 o'clock Armistice night. The Auxiliary is furnishing the dinner and serving it and all that is required is that the man be a member of the American Legion.

The date for the "duck feed" was set for Nov. 17 at the Legion hall. Geo. The rapid rise of radio has stimulated the public imagination, and there are many who have come to the conclusion that by entering this new industry they may rise to fame and fortune overnight. This, of course, is not true.

There are many high-salaried positions in the radio industry, just as there are in the automobile industry, the food industry, or any other great commercial enterprise. The men who occupy these positions are selected for exceptional acuteness, keen judgment, ability to handle men, and mature experience. Likewise, ordinary ability is rewarded with moderate salaries as in all walks of life.

The vast majority of clerical and factory positions require a knowledge and skill comparable to that necessary for similar positions in other enterprises, and involve similar rates of compensation.

Paid According to Ability

This brings us to the technical side of radio. The radio research engineer, who designs radio receivers and develops new radio inventions, is usually a graduate of a university. The well-trained electrical engineer has all of the foundation necessary for radio work, and so-called "radio engineers" are usually electrical engineering graduates. They are paid according to their ability.

Radio service and test men receive about the same rate as skilled workers in other lines, such as the machine tool trade. When working for dealers and distributors, their pay may be somewhat higher than if they are called upon to do some selling as well as servicing. Those who are in business for themselves servicing radios in the home frequently build up quite profitable businesses, while others, of course, fail completely, depending upon their enterprise and business ability and general circumstances.

Perhaps no other type of work depends so much upon native ability as selling. A good salesman will make money no matter what he is selling. A poor one will fail. There are many great opportunities for real salesmen.

The trouble about advising one with regard to a radio career depends so much upon the individual that one finds it difficult to give definite rules. If you have ability, and radio appeals to you, it is worth a try. If you have an established trade which gives you a reasonable income, think twice. In any event, be prepared for hard work and endless struggle against competition. There is no royal road to success, in radio or any other industry.

Neighboring Interest

Another big disappointment these days is discovering that the neighbors are not having a big family fuss after all, but that all the racket is coming from the radio.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

MINNESOTA LEADS IN THRIFT REPORT

New evidence of the growing tendency toward thrift and sound investment on the part of the American public, despite general business depression and unemployment in many lines, is offered in the October report of the Investors Syndicate, showing that its sales of investment certificates in the first nine months of this year approximately equalled those of the record breaking 1929 period. Also, for the first time in more than two years, Minnesota assumed first rank in the monthly production, showing gains where other sections suffered losses, and indicating the ability of people in this part of the country to maintain their thrift programs.

ZION LUTHERAN TO DEDICATE ORGAN

Special Word and Music Service to be Conducted Sunday Morning

The Zion Lutheran church, corner of Main and North 8th street will dedicate their new $2,000 pipe organ at services tomorrow morning at 10:45 o'clock.

Dr. Th. Buenger of Concordia College, St. Paul will preach the sermon and Prof. F. A. Wendt of Sauk Rapids will play the organ. A special choir service will also be held and an offering will be taken for the organ fund.

All departments of the church with the ladies aid taking the active lead cooperated in raising funds for the purchase of the new organ. Miss Alice Luepker is the church organist.

Life is One Auto Collision After Another for Him

Milwaukee, Wis., Nov. 8.—(UP)—John Poznecko, 24, Milwaukee, who was discharged from the county hospital yesterday after recovering from injuries received in an auto accident, was back in the hospital today suffering from cuts and bruises received in another automobile collision. Poznecko was injured when the car which was taking him from the hospital crashed into another machine last night.

Society Woman Exposes 8 Children to Smallpox

Milwaukee, Wis., Nov. 8.—(UP)—Health Commissioner J. P. Koehler threatened drastic action today against a Milwaukee society woman because she was said to have exposed eight children to smallpox.

The woman, whose name was withheld, gave a party for her two children while they were under quarantine for the disease, Dr. Koehler said. All of the eight guests were exposed as a result of their contact with the patients.

"WUZ" Winifred Van Duzer

ON a cruise with her mother, Judith Archer, young school teacher, is attracted to Kit Camp, the ship's radio operator. Though pretty, Judy's charm is hidden by her eye glasses and conservative style of dress. Visiting the Public Gardens, at Halifax, Judy hears shots as a scar-faced man dashes out of the shrubbery, followed by a dark, handsome man. Later, on board ship, Judy falls and breaks her glasses. Feeling a steady hand on her arm, she gazes into the laughing eyes of the handsome stranger of Public Gardens. He is Tristram Millet. Judy and Tris meet Kit, who gives Judy a piercing look. Tris tells Judy she is beautiful. As Tris denies knowledge of the Public Gardens quarrel, the scar-faced man peers in the window. Tris tells Judy it is her imagination. Next morning, Judy sees Kit with a girl and is jealous. Later, he tells Judy he had been waiting for her. She wonders at his attraction for her.

CHAPTER XVII.
A SIMPLE dignity about Kit—a solemnity that went cutting through her resentment. "Well—ah, well—still for one who's been here and there and done this and that it looks a wee bit tame and unexciting." She nodded at him, gave a little airy, indifferent laugh. "To say nothing of the before mentioned wife—she'd mind being left? You're sure of this?"

He reached over and gathered the robe tightly where it folded under her chin, laughed into her eyes. "Who knows, Judy, my dear?"

Judy flushed beneath the intensity of his regard, put up her hands. But the tall boy only held more firmly, laughing all the while—pulled her to her feet—pointed into the turbulent gray.

"Look, that's what I wanted you to see—"

A little to port an octagon rock lifted sheer out of the waves. It looked to be about a half mile across—large enough for a house and barns and a stretch of grass, like deep-piled emerald velvet, on its mesa top. A short distance from this was another, smaller, rock, drab as the clouds and utterly barren.

They seem to be moving! They're in the same place and yet they seem to move!"

"Another charming illusion, like female independence. Now look!"

They were nearer and suddenly the ship sounded a long, deep note, which was answered from the island. As if this were a signal for flight, hundreds of gulls arose and floated in a cloud over both islands, flapping strong, white wings. It was their shifting about on the rocks which had made the island seem to be in motion.

"Kit! Oh, marvelous—would not have missed this!"

He stood braced against the wind, grinning down at her with the air of accepting applause.

"But you needn't be so proud of yourself. It doesn't belong to you, Mr. Christopher Camp—the sea or the isles thereof. I'd have seen all this with you a million miles away."

"Ah—but think what you'd have missed! I can see," he went on, bending down, squeezing her arm in a rollicking glee, "that we're to while away a good many innocent hours in this delightfully spicy repartee."

"Oh—take that for granted—"

She flung away angrily, but he would not let her go. "I'll say I'm sorry—ah—that helps? Why so touchy? You never mentioned the radiogram, Judy; I could do with six or seven compliments."

When she hesitated he dropped back to the deck, patting the place beside him with such a hopeful grin that she laughed in spite of herself and set down. He spread a copy of his little paper, shielding it from the wind, and leafed it over, eagerly asking her opinion on this and that.

The first pages offered short paragraphs gleaned from radio dispatches concerning the world's news; following these were sports items, market reports, the weather, and last of all news having to do with the ship and passengers.

"Well, Miss School-ma'm, well, well—"

"I'll give the compliment, Kit—all seven of them. It's like a real newspaper in miniature. . . . You might be a real editor some day; sit at a desk and print adventures instead of living them."

"You'd like that, Judy? Had a reporter's job once. In Sydney, it was—"

She had been running through loose the muffler which rose out of his turned-up coat collar almost to the brim of his cap—lift his head expectantly—half turn as if he were waiting.

Narrow, piercing eyes—a hooked beak of nose—a fiery scratch from chin to temple. The man of the Public Gardens in Halifax; the man who had run out of the lane after the quarrel and the shots when the silence, more terrifying than either, had settled down.

"Never claimed a halo, fair one. But why walk all over my imagination? Just because I won't puff it up—let it blow away—"

Kit went rambling on, laughing, teasing her, watching the bird islands sink into the gray and disappear.

He had not seen alarm sweep her face nor the tense scrutiny she turned upon the blurred figure below. Only when she made a sudden movement, brought both hands to her throat, did he turn an eagle gaze upon the sun deck.

"Follow you danced with? Why all the wonderment? What is it, Judy? Ill? Go below—right away—"

She put out a shaking hand, held him back, forced her lips to smile.

He reached over and laughed into her eyes, "Who knows, Judy, my dear?"

the radio news; now she gave an exclamation and began to read aloud. "Search for the stolen Ballard emeralds has reached America, according to friends of Mr. Cecil Covington, who admits that Scotland Yard has failed to recover the trio of famous gems, 'Sisters Three.'"

These gems, each worth a fortune, were carried off by two men who boldly entered the Covington home and held up a dinner party, afterward departing in a leisurely manner. One of the robbers was identified as American—"

Judy read on, thrilled by the account. A huge reward was offered for information leading to the return of the emeralds. . . . "Wouldn't you love a chance at it, Kit? Oh—find the emeralds—gleaming things, all alive and wicked some way. Step into the adventure that surrounds jewels like ripples circling a stone."

"All right for a movie. Real life isn't so full of excitement."

"No imagination! I noticed this: that for a soldier of fortune—gallant d'Artagnan—you're sadly matter of fact—"

She stopped all at once, eyes wide, lips apart. From where they lounged she had a view of the extreme corner of the sun-deck. She could see a man who had been standing by the rail there suddenly

"Nothing Kit—I'm all right. Just for a minute—we are sort of lurching around, aren't we? Truly, Kit—I want to stay here—"

He gave her a piercing look, but settled down again. "Sure, that's all it was? 'Cause if anything needs fixing—well, I'm the best you'll ever find."

"Hate yourself, don't you? But I'll remember that." She returned his grin now, pretending to mind when he called her a land-lubber. But all the time her whole thought was on the sun deck—the man who stood there—another man who had come sauntering along.

"Follow you danced with—"

Kit Camp had seen him, too. Tris Millet! Pausing there beside the scar-faced man. . . . Saying something.

Tris didn't know this man. At least he had said he didn't—or was it only that she believed this? And the scar-faced man had hurried out of the shrubbery in the Public Gardens just as Tris went into the lane. . . . How could they have helped passing each other?

Were they actually speaking together down there? Tris sending a quick glance everywhere—he would see them up here; in another instant he would see them.

Unusual Twists in "Murder Will Out"
"Murder Will Out," First National and Vitaphone production now current at the Paramount theatre, is refreshing by original.

With no bungling detective, spooky scenes, sliding panels, clutching hands, nor other of the usual tricks so dear to the heart of the mystery author, "Murder Will Out" holds audience interest and emerges as one of the season's most novel and interesting features.

Instead of the meaningless patter so frequently found in mystery pictures, intelligent dialogue carries the story along at a brisk pace toward the surprise denouement. The excellent adaptation of Murray Leinster's story is the work of J. Grubb Alexander.

Sound effects, which always heighten the effectiveness of mystery pictures, are used in good taste and moderation.

The plot centers about a group of Chinese blackmailers who attempt to extort money from Leonard Staunton, a wealthy young New York clubman.

paign, is directly opposed to periodic general revisions, which inevitably bring in their trail a shameful load of scandal and a hideous dislocation of our whole industrial and commercial system. Democrats in the present congress sought the enactment of a plan that would limit changes to those obviously required—changes in individual schedules on the recommendation of non-partisan experts in consonance with the dictates of economic science. With such a process tariff alteration would proceed with the maximum of patience and caution, and would cause no earthquakes in our business structure. Whatever changes may be considered necessary to rid the present act of its outstanding enormities, nothing is further from the minds of those who will direct legislation on the democratic side than a general revision of the tariff."

The statement expressed gratification for the support at the polls and said that while democratic leaders were "thrilled by the demonstration of confidence," they did not consider "the present occasion as one for celebration or for self-gratification."

"The responsibilities, bestowed by the election are too grave for mere manifestations of exaltation," they said.

Nye's attitude on the senate organization was considered more reflective of the sentiment of western progressive republicans than Brookhart's. The little band of a dozen progressives hold eight committee chairmanships, including some of the most important committees, and it was considered doubtful whether they would be willing to give them up to give the democrats control.

Senators Borah and Norris, leaders of the western independents, are chairman of the powerful foreign relations and judiciary committees, respectively. Frazier, republican, North Dakota, is chairman of the Indian affairs committee; Nye, republican, North Dakota, the public lands; Norbeck, republican, South Dakota, banking and currency; Howell, republican, Nebraska, claims, and LaFollette, republican, Wisconsin, the manufacturing committee.

Rep. John E. Rankin, democrat, of Mississippi, expressed the opinion that western republicans on his side of the capitol would vote with the democrats to organize the house in order to advance the cause of the farm relief export debenture.

CITATION FOR HEARING ON PETITION FOR PROBATE OF WILL
No. 3471

State of Minnesota, County of Crow Wing, ss. In Probate Court.

In the Matter of the Estate of Oliver Grenier, Decedent.

The State of Minnesota to All Whom it May Concern:

WHEREAS, Walter Grenier, of the Village of Aitkin, Aitkin County, Minnesota, has deposited in this Court an instrument in writing purporting to be the Last Will and Testament of Oliver Grenier, late of the County of Crow Wing, State of Minnesota, together with his petition praying that said instrument be allowed and admitted to probate, and that letters testamentary be granted thereon to Walter Grenier, which instrument and petition are on file in this Court and open to inspection.

IT IS ORDERED, That said petition be heard on the 1st day of December, 1936, at 10 o'clock A. M., at the Probate Court Room, in the Court House at Brainerd, in said County and State; that you be and appear before this Court at said time and place and show cause, if any there be, why said petition should not be granted; that you file your objections, if any there be, in writing, in this Court to the Court House at said time, before said hearing; and that this citation be served by the publication thereof according to law, and by mailed notice as required by the rules of this Court.

WITNESS, The Judge of this Court and the Seal thereof this 8th day of November, 1936.

Pigeons Beat Auto and Train in Race

London, England.—A race by motor and train against a number of pigeons was lost by Sir William Edge, liberal M. P.

As soon as the pigeons were released from the palace yard in Westminster Sir William started his dash for the mining town of Ibstock.

His train arrived twenty-six minutes late and a pigeon arrived two minutes before.

Pair of Sea Lions Die in Ocean Duel

Carmel, Calif.—A fight between two sea lions on the rocks of Monterey Bay proved fatal to both. One weighing more than half a ton, was washed ashore at Pacific Grove. The other was found dead on the beach here. The carcasses showed the lions had chewed each other.

Fashions for the Smart Woman

MAKE THIS FROCK FOR ABOUT $3.34

There's plenty of dash in this new frock for the young school girl. Its decorative pointed yoke and long, inverted box-pleats have an unstudied charm that is the very spirit of youth. Its trim simplicity is most effective in novelty jersey or in lightweight tweed, flecked in a contrasting color. The one illustrated employs tan tweed flecked with brown and white, with an orange belt and buttons. Size 12 requires:

Noted Church Thief Nabbed in Vienna

Vienna, Austria.—Noticing that a passer-by, who appeared to be neither a very religious man nor to be a person likely to have a legitimate use for jewels, was carrying under his arm a golden jewel case decorated with religious figures a policeman on duty in the Mare-Aurel-strasse of Vienna halted him and asked for an explanation.

Then, finding this explanation unsatisfactory, he carried the man to the police station and there received the congratulations of his chief for having caught Franz Hradil, a notorious thief, who specialized in "church and cloister work" and who was wanted for forty-one such pieces of work.

"JUDY" Winifred Van Duzer

ON a cruise with her mother, Judith Archer, young school teacher, is attracted to Kit Camp, the ship's radio operator. Though pretty, Judy's charm is hidden by her eye-glasses and conservative style of dress. Visiting the Public Gardens, at Halifax, Judy hears shots as a scar-faced man dashes out of the shrubbery, followed by a dark, handsome man. Later, on board ship, Judy falls and breaks her glasses. Feeling a steady hand on her arm, she gazes into the laughing eyes of the handsome stranger of Public Gardens. He is Tristram Millet. Judy and Tris meet Kit, who gives Judy a piercing look. Tris tells Judy she is beautiful. As Tris denies knowledge of the Public Gardens quarrel, the scar-faced man peers in the window. Tris tells Judy it is her imagination. Next morning, Judy sees Kit with a girl and is jealous. Later, he tells Judy he had been waiting for her. She wonders at his attraction for her.

CHAPTER XVII.

A SIMPLE dignity about Kit—a solemnity that went cutting through her resentment. "Well—ah, well—still for one who's been here and there and done this and that it looks a wee bit tame and unexciting." She nodded at him, gave a little airy, indifferent laugh. "To say nothing of the before mentioned wife—she'd mind being left? You're sure of this?"

He reached over and gathered the robe tightly where it folded under her chin, laughed into her eyes. "Who knows, Judy, my dear?"

Judy flushed beneath the intensity of his regard, put up her hands. But the tall boy only held more firmly, laughing all the while—pulled her to her feet—pointed into the turbulent gray.

"Look, that's what I wanted you to see."

A little to port an octagon rock lifted sheer out of the waves. It looked to be about a half mile across—large enough for a house and barns and a stretch of grass, like deep-piled emerald velvet, on its mesa top. A short distance from this was another, smaller, rock, drab as the clouds and utterly barren.

They seem to be moving! They're in the same place and yet they seem to move!

"Another charming illusion, like female independence. Now look!"

They were nearer and suddenly the ship sounded a long, deep note, which was answered from the island.

As if this were a signal for flight, hundreds of gulls arose and floated in a cloud over both islands, flapping strong, white wings. It was their shifting about on the rocks which had made the island seem to be in motion.

"Kit! Oh, marvelous—would not have missed this!"

He stood braced against the wind, grinning down at her with the air of accepting applause.

"But you needn't be so proud of yourself. It doesn't belong to you, Mr. Christopher Camp—the sea or the isles thereof. I'd have seen all this with you a million miles away."

"Ah—but think what you'd have missed! I can see," he went on, bending down, squeezing her arm in a rollicky glee, "that we're to while away a good many innocent hours in this delightfully spicy repartee."

"Oh—take that for granted—"

She flung away angrily, but he would not let her go. "I'll say I'm sorry—ah—that helps? Why so touchy? You never mentioned the radiogram, Judy; I could do with six or seven compliments."

When she hesitated he dropped back to the deck, patting the place beside him with such a hopeful grin that she laughed in spite of herself and set down. He spread a copy of his little paper, shielding it from the wind, and leafed it over, eagerly asking her opinion on this and that.

The first pages offered short paragraphs gleaned from radio dispatches concerning the world's news; following these were sports items, market reports, the weather, and last of all news having to do with the ship and passengers.

"Well, Miss School-ma'm., well, well—"

"I'll give the compliment, Kit—all seven of them. It's like a real newspaper in miniature. . . . You might be a real editor some day; sit at a desk and print adventures instead of living them."

"You'd like that, Judy? Had a reporter's job once. In Sydney, it was."

She had been running through the radio news; now she gave an exclamation and began to read aloud. "Search for the stolen Ballard emeralds has reached America, according to friends of Mr. Cecil Covington, who admits that Scotland Yard has failed to recover the trio of famous gems, 'Sisters Three.'"

These gems, each worth a fortune, were carried off by two men who boldly entered the Covington home and held up a dinner party, afterward departing in a leisurely manner. One of the robbers was identified as American—"

Judy read on, thrilled by the account. A huge reward was offered for information leading to the return of the emeralds. . . .

"Wouldn't you love a chance at it, Kit? Oh—find the emeralds—gleaming things, all alive and wicked some way. Step into the adventure that surrounds jewels like ripples circling a stone."

"All right for a movie. Real life isn't so full of excitement."

"No imagination! I noticed this: that for a soldier of fortune—gallant d'Artagnan—you're sadly matter of fact—"

She stopped all at once, eyes wide, lips apart. From where they lounged she had a view of the extreme corner of the sun-deck. She could see a man who had been standing by the rail there suddenly
